TIME CHANGE, ELECTRIC RATE VOTE DELAYED

Council To Take Final Action Next Monday; Clocks May Go Back Oct. 3.

City council last night took preliminary action on two important [illegible]—new electric rates and changing the official time for Marion—but it delayed final decision on both matters until next Monday night pending expression of opinion from the public.

The time change proposal would set Marion's clocks back an hour at midnight on the first Sunday in October, and leave them there until the first Sunday in April next year.

The electric rate proposal would give the Marion-Reserve Power Co. a 10-year contract under which it would furnish electricity to Marion users at rates lower at several points in the rate schedule than the ones now in effect.

Separate ordinances on both of these matters were given one reading and then tabled until next Monday night when a special meeting of council will be held for final action on both.

Divergent Views Expected

The time change proposal is expected to bring divergent opinions before council next Monday. Councilmen who have made preliminary inquiry say that parents of school pupils and some others favor the change to slow time during the winter months because of the present fast time many boys and girls will have to start to school before daybreak as winter progresses. Many shop workers, virtually all railroad men and others whose working schedule must be geared to the federal war time which now prevails in Marion are expected to oppose it because some of them virtually will have to live on two time schedules if the change is made. One councilman remarked that extra daylight hours in the evening to work in Victory gardens won't be needed much longer, and that no complaints from gardeners are expected.

Councilmen said they expected a number of Ohio cities to swing back to the Eastern Standard time next month, and thought sentiment here probably would lean toward such a change. They pointed out that when Marion was placed on Eastern War time last spring the action was taken with the understanding that a change back to slow time was contemplated in the fall.

Electric Rate Details

The electric rate proposal went before council for its first reading after a last-minute change had been made during the caucus session. This change was to enable users of electricity to reach the bottom bracket of the rate schedule more quickly. Councilmen said the company, in preliminary negotiations carried on with Councilmen W. G. Slack and Earle Johnson, agreed to the following rate for residential users: 4½ cents per kilowatt hour for the first 40 WKH used per month; 4 cents per KWH for the next 30; 3 cents per KWH for the next 30; 2½ cents per KWH for the next 150 and 1½ cents per KWH for all additional. This represented a half-cent cut from 5 to 4½ cents in the first bracket, as compared with the existing rate, and also a change from 200 to 150 in the number of kilowatt hours charged at the 2½ cent rate, which would enable users to get to the bottom 1½ cent rate more quickly. In connection with this, the company asked to increase the minimum monthly bill from 75 cents to $1.

G. Frank Gast, Prospect Official Many Years, Dies

Death today took G. Frank Gast, [illegible], who for nearly half a century had served Prospect community in various public offices and who was widely known throughout the county largely through his operation of the Gast Sanitarium at Prospect.

He died at 5:45 a. m. at his home [illegible] months after the first serious illness in his unusually active life. Last July he underwent an operation at Mt. Carmel hospital in Columbus and a short time later was able to be up and around again. Two weeks ago his condition became worse and he had been in bed since that time.

His name was synonomous with band concerts in Prospect. He played annually in concerts there for more than half a century, held a variety of public offices and was active in the civic life of the community.

3rd War Loan Purchases Yesterday Top $73,000 Mark

Boost Marion County Total in Drive to $619,848, or 22 Per Cent of $2,829,000 Goal.

Sales yesterday totaling $73,030.75 pushed Marion county's Third War Loan drive total up to $619,848.25 or nearly 22 per cent of the $2,829,000 goal.

This put the drive just a hairsbreadth ahead of the time table, because when sales closed last night, 21 per cent of the selling days of the campaign had passed.

Leaders today urged workers to renew their efforts and try to push the sales farther ahead of the month's time table.

Meanwhile, two special events this week were contributing substantially to the bond sales. The Rotary club, calling in tickets that members have been selling to the Palace theater war bond benefit Thursday night, reported only about 400 tickets left. E. C. Dee, club chairman in charge of the sale, said these tickets will be available at the banks, the Victory House and at the theater after today. He reported that whereas the ticket sales were figured to raise about $160,000 through the sale of a $100 bond for each seat in the theater that night, some buyers had turned in $10,000 of purchases for the top limit of 10 tickets. As a result of such "overpayments," the ticket sale for the benefit is expected to yield nearly $250,000, Mr. Dee said.

Circus Seats Going

The other special event on the week's bond program is Friday's performances in Marion of the Ringling Brothers - Barnum & Bailey Circus. War bond sales for a block of tickets to the circus were progressing steadily at the drive headquarters at 116 North State street today, with only a few of the evening war bond seats remaining and approximately half of the afternoon seats sold.

Another special activity planned for this week will be a war bond auction sponsored by Clarence Phillippi post of the American Legion at LaRue Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights in connection with the LaRue fall festival. An account of plans for this event appears elsewhere in today's Star.

Chairmen to Report

Elmer J. Schoenlaub, chairman of the Marion War Finance committee, today issued a special call to all block chairmen in the Third War Loan drive to make a report of their sales to date to the drive headquarters on North State street by 5 p. m. Thursday. He said it is important that the drive leaders keep in touch with the progress of the campaign through contact with the block chairmen.

Marion's first day sales in the campaign last week put this county well up in the list of the 26 counties of the First War Bond area, a report from the Cleveland area office today showed. Marion was in fourth place, credited with the sale of 12.7 per cent of its goal on the first day. Only Huron, Erie and Wayne counties were ahead of Marion for the day. Crawford was in fifth place, Morrow in 20th.

National Reports Good

Cheering news on the progress of the campaign nationally came from Washington today. The Associated Press reported that with $2,369,000,000 already in the till, treasury officials expressed confidence today that the full $15,000,000,000 quota for the Third War Loan would be met.

On the basis of these three-day totals, Delaware led the nation on a percentage basis. Its $14,000,000 in sales represented 28 per cent of its quota. New York with $1,120,000,000 or 24 per cent was second and North Carolina, accounting for 16 per cent of its quota with $24,000,000 in sales, was third.

The treasury did not provide totals for other states.

Yesterday's sales in Marion county centered around the Series E bonds with sales totaling $29,193.75 and the Treasury 2½ per cent bonds with sales totaling

TO CALL VOTE ON DAD DRAFT

Senator Wheeler Declares He Will Demand Senate Action on Issue.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont) disclosed today he will oppose all administration attempts to delay a senate vote on his bill to halt the drafting of fathers into the armed forces.

He added that he was amending the proposal to prohibit "indefinitely" the induction of fathers, instead of postponing such action until after Jan. 1, as it now provides.

"I am going to call up the bill for action the very first opportunity I have," Wheeler said.

The declaration was Wheeler's answer to administration proposals to delay action pending a further statement from General George C. Marshall, army chief-of-staff, and Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the fleet.

Cites Canadian Cut

"The Canadians are already disbanding some of their combat troops for civilian purposes," Wheeler said.

(This referred to an announcement at Ottawa last night by Defense Minister J. L. Ralston that the dominion planned to reduce home defense operational military forces by about 20,000 men through disbandment of the 7th and 8th divisions and partial disbandment of the 6th division.)

"Instead of taking more men at this time and upsetting our own civilian economy, we ought to be using a lot of our own soldiers in

CALEDONIA SOLDIER MISSING IN ACTION

Word Received by Parents of Sgt. Charles Speece.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Speece of Caledonia received word by telegram Thursday from the U. S. Department of War that their son, Tech. Sgt. Charles W. Speece, was "missing since Aug. 27 in the North African area."

He was assigned as radio operator on a heavy bomber in January at Tucson, Ariz., and left this country in June for England. He was then stationed at a base in the middle East.

The same day the parents received the telegram they received a message relayed to them from their son by Sgt. Walter Poorman, a Marion man stationed at the same base as Sgt. Speece. It was a note addressed to Sgt. Poorman, signed by Sgt. Speece, asking him to let his parents know that Aug. 25 "we started back to England and will stop at Oran and another place..." He added "I will see you before long."

Sgt. Speece entered the service May 15, 1942. He was an employe before that of the Chuck-Walk Dairy north of Bucyrus. Attending a radio school at Scott Field, Ill., he was transferred to a flexible machine gun school at Ft. Myers, Fla., then went to Tucson.

Born in Marion May 10, 1920, he attended the Kirkpatrick and Waldo schools and was a graduate at the latter.

A brother, Pfc. Ernest Speece, is stationed at Charleston, S. C. Another brother, Earl Speece Jr., is at home and two sisters, Misses Fern and Lavern Speece, are in Columbus and a third sister, Elizabeth, is at home.

LIVING COSTS UP

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 14—Consumers' living costs for the month ended Aug. 15 were 25 per cent higher in Cleveland than in January, 1941, the base date of the "Little Steel" wage formula, the labor department's bureau of labor statistics reported today.

BRYANSK, KEY NAZI BASE IN RUSSIA, FALLS

Capture of City Disrupts German Rail Network on Soviet Front.

LONDON, Sept. 14—Russian troops captured the fortress city of Bryansk last night, breaching the Germans' main defense line before the Dneiper river by seizure of that pivot of central and southern German battlelines and center of a railway spiderweb serving both fronts.

Evacuation of the keystone city, held by the Germans since October, 1941, was acknowledged today by the German radio soon after Moscow reported that the onpouring Red army was closing in on the city on the west bank of the Desna river.

Disruption of the rail network vital for German winter transport heightened belief in London that the the backward-scurrying Nazis would not be able to halt their retreat now before reaching the west bank of the Dnieper.

Few River Crossings

The speed of their withdrawal toward Kiev and Dnieperopetrovsk on the lower reaches of the river, where only three inadequate bridges and ferry crossings are available, raised hopes that large forces of Nazis might be trapped on the east bank of the Dnieper or even be overtaken while attempt to cross it.

The German broadcast by DNB declared Bryansk (normal population 87,000) had been evcauated in good order, and the troops had not been encircled or injured to "a considerable degree."

Again Berlin preceded Moscow in announcing the victory for Russian arms.

"The city of Bryansk," the broadcast said, "which first became known in this war by the great twin battle of Vyazma and Bryansk in the autumn of 1941, in the course of which German troops surrounded and captured several Soviet armies with their entire materiel, was evacuated by the Germans during Monday night."

Nazis Say Trap Fails

"It was undoubtedly the intention of the Russian command to mete out a similar fate to the Germans here but this attempt must be regarded as having failed," the broadcast continued.

"Not only did the Russians not succeed in encircling the German forces in this area but they neither succeeded in injuring the Germans to considerable degree nor in laying a hand on the military establishments of the city which fell into German hands together with all their vast stories," it added.

The Russian communique announced last night that Red army forces had nearly completed entrapment of the German garrison and had captured railway stations on the outskirts of the town.

Other Russian forces were storming ahead toward Kiev and the Dnieper river on sectors of the front which extended southward from Bryansk to the Sea of Azov and the gateway to the Crimea, the Moscow war bulletin disclosed.

Income Tax Filing Time Near Close

Tomorrow is the deadline for filing income tax returns on estimated income for 1943, Harold D. Sherrer, deputy collector of internal revenue, reminded Marion countians today. Only about two-thirds of the persons who filed returns in March will be required to file a second return, he said last week. Mr. Sherrer's office is located on the second floor of the Citizen's building on West Center street. The office will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. tomorrow.

V-Mail and 3rd War Loan

"Is the family doing everything possible to win the war?"
"How anxious is the family for the boys' final return?"
"How well and busy is the family?"
"How well is the family getting along financially?"
"What's doing generally back home? Who's marrying whom?"
"What are John, Joe, Ruth, and Sadie doing?"

Do you want any more proof that this is a family war? These questions run through the V-Mail from the invasion fronts. Notice the tie-ups—home front and fighting front.

Your boy knows the power of War Bonds on the invasion front. He knows the Third War Loan is the biggest event back home today. He wants to know what you're doing about it. The Office of War Information says that letters from home are ammunition for the spirit of our fighting men. "Writing letters to our soldiers is definitely a contribution to the winning of the war," says our European invasion chief, General Eisenhower. A vital part of the ammunition must be your response to the Third War Loan. He'll judge how well you are backing him by what you say about War Bonds in your next letter.

JAPANESE ABANDON BASE AT SALAMAUA

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 14—Fleeing Japanese, giving up Salamaua, fought a rear guard action against swift moving Australians today on ridges northwest of that New Guinea air base as they strove to keep open a single jungle trail of retreat toward doomed Lae.

But the Salamaua Japanese, who abandoned valuable war equipment in their flight Sunday from the town they had held since January, 1942, can only succeed in postponing their fate briefly. American and Australian forces are clamping a vise on Lae, 18 miles above Salamaua, while Liberators and Flying Fortresses are blowing up gun batteries there. Fall of Lae would give the allies virtually complete control of Huon gulf.

Farm Gas Shortage in East Investigated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 — A senate agriculture subcommittee called office of price administration (OPA) officials for questioning today on what Senator Aiken (R-Vt) described as a "farm gasoline shortage that is raising the cost of food production."

Aiken said farmers, particularly in the east, are having trouble getting enough gas to operate their equipment, and committee members want to know whether the shortage is "actual or whether it has been created by rules and regulations of government agencies."

Movie Troupe Due Tomorrow To Begin Filming Race Movie

Company of 90 Headed by Walter Brennan To Come Here from Fremont; Big-Time Stables on Hand.

Scheduled to arrive in Marion tomorrow are the more than 90 Hollywood employes of the Twentieth-Century Fox studios who in one way or another will be connected with the filming at the Marion county fairgrounds of scenes for the forthcoming movie production of George Agnew Chamberlain's novel, "The Phantom Filly," a book based on the development of a nondescript colt to a champion in the harness racing world.

Part of the scenes for the $2,000,000 technicolor movie will be filmed at the half-mile fairground track during a three-day meeting planned by Frank M. Foster, secretary of the Marion Trotting Association, in cooperation with the California movie makers. The race meeting will start Thursday and will conclude Saturday afternoon. Other scenes will be made upon conclusion of the racing meet. Studio officials in Marion recently to lay plans for the trip here, estimated that the all-Hollywood troupe would be on location for a week or more.

The company is now at Fremont, completing scenes leading up to the Marion meeting. Upon completion of the Marion phase of the movie the troupe will proceed to the Walnut Hall Farms at Donerail, Ky. There the farm back ground to the picture will be made.

Three of the group arrived in Marion from Fremont at noon today. They are Chester Gore, art director and Dick Mueller, a former Toledoan, technicolor control expert, who are checking color an light conditions at the fairgrounds this afternoon, and Casey Shawhan, public relations man.

Brennan Heads Cast

Walter Brennan, one of Hollywood's foremost character actors and once winner of Hollywood's most coveted honor—the Academy award, heads the cast of Hollywood stars to be featured in the film. He has been cast in another potential Academy-winning role as "Thunder." In Hollywood recently Brennan declared it was his best role since he won his first Oscar in "Come and Get It."

Twenty-year-old Lon McCallister, who leaped to stardom in the role of "California" in "Stage Door Canteen," has been cast as Brennan's nephew, "Sparke." Ward Bond, cast as "Jed Bruce," a rival trainer and driver, plays another of the leading roles.

Leading feminine parts will be carried by a pair of Twentieth-Century Fox starlets, June Haver and Jeanne Crane.

Other parts are played by Willie Best, Negro actor who is cast as "Mo Rum," a darky swipe. Charles Dingle, also a Twentieth-Century Fox player, takes the part of "Godaw Boole," trotting stable owner and a lifetime rival of "Thunder."

Noted Horseman Included

One of the key behind-the-scenes figures in the production of the film is Paul E. McPherson, nationally-known horseman who is technical advisor for the film. Mr. McPherson, for many years West Coast representative of the Houghton Sulky Co., has served in similar capacities in various other films including "David Harum," "The Jones Family," "[illegible]," "Saratoga," "[illegible] Don't Cry," and "[illegible]." He is a native of Goshen, N. Y., home of the Hambletonian trotting classic.

Director of the production is Henry Hathaway.

The leading equine parts will be played by a pair of Ohio oatburners, Miss Sarah Abbey, owned by Walter J. Michael of Bucyrus and Thelma Hanover, the property of Joe Neville of Delaware. With the exception that both are three-year-olds, the two fit the bill perfectly. The script calls for The Phantom Filly," as Miss Sarah Abbey, to be a two-year-old chestnut and her opposition to be a two-year-old bay. However, the three-year-old pacers are chosen over the two-year-olds because as a rule the older

NAZIS AND ITALIANS BATTLE IN STREETS

LONDON, Sept. 14—Bitter street fighting in Rome was reported by the Algiers radio today even as German propagandists were proclaiming the rebirth of Fascism under Benito Mussolini's personal command with a prediction that he would cancel Italy's capitulation, reorganize the Italian army and pronounce the end of the rule of the House of Savoy.

"Bitter opposition to the presence of the German forces in Italy is spreading all over the country," radio Algiers reported, in a broadcast recorded by The Associated Press. "In the Balkans, too, German troops have been challenged everywhere by Italian soldiers."

NAZIS REGAIN SOME GROUND IN HARD BATTLE

Fighting Called Equal To Desperate Gallipoli Conflict in World War I.

By The Associated Press

Huge sea-borne Allied reinforcements were reported moving into the bloody Salerno beachhead in Italy today and British Eighth Army troops dashed north along the coast within 100 miles of a junction with Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army forces.

DNB, official German news agency, asserted without confirmation from any allied source that German tanks driving down from mountain heights had advanced to Salerno and that "strong enemy detachments were cut off from their landing points."

The news agency said Nazi tanks "are engaged in breaking enemy resistance on the coast in the bridgehead established by the American 5th Army."

Radio Berlin said British parachute troops which landed a few days ago near Castellamare on the bay of Naples had been wiped out.

A dispatch from Wes Gallagher, Associated Press correspondent at Allied headquarters, said the Mediterranean was alive with ships and planes as fresh Allied troops were sent into the six-day-old battle of Salerno.

Possibly mistaking the direction of the traffic, the Germans asserted that the Allies had begun withdrawing to sea from the Salerno area yesterday and that the evacuation was continuing today. A Nazi broadcast said this meant the Allies "have abandoned the enterprise (at Salerno) altogether."

Nazis Recover Ground

A communique from Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters acknowledged that the Germans, counterattacking with suicidal frenzy, "have regained some of the ground taken by us" in the Salerno area, but gave no inkling of any evacuation.

The bloody Salerno fighting was equal to the desperate battles at Gallipoli in World War I.

(German broadcasts declared the Allies probably are withdrawing to sea as many troops as possible "which means that they have abandoned the enterprise altogether." There was no Allied comment on this report.

(The Nazis contended the British were "decisively beaten," and that the Americans were in flight after suffering 8,000 to 10,000 casualties.

(U. S. troops were thrown out of occupied positions in the Eboli area, southeast of Salerno itself, after being repulsed with heavy losses in attacks on German lines southeast of Eboli, another broadcast recorded by The Associated Press said. The Germans counter-attacked Monday along a wide front, it added.))

Allied headquarters announced that the British had captured Cosenza in an advance up to the toe, and seized Bari, 65 miles above Brindisi on the Adriatic coast.

British Pass Cosenza

The British were pushing up past Cosenza and were only about 100 miles south of the lower hinge of the Fifth army bridgehead. Eboli is 15 miles southeast of Salerno itself.

Allied tanks, infantry and planes supported by thunderous naval guns battled the Germans seeking to widen the Salerno area bridgehead only several miles deep at the maximum advance.

The points where the Nazis regained ground were not identified by headquarters.

Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring threw two armored divisions and the famous, reconstituted Hermann Goering division against Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army, and overhead increasing numbers of Nazi planes were engaged by hundreds of allied bombers and fighters.

(There was not the slightest allied indication of any withdrawal from Salerno as reported by the Germans, who said the withdrawal was continuing this morning, after beginning Monday afternoon. Trans-ocean said it was being made "in complete disorder.")

Meanwhile, arrival of New Italian naval units at Malta swelled the strength of the erstwhile enemy fleet in allied hands to 77 ships, including five battleships, one seaplane carrier, eight cruisers, 27 destroyers and 19 submarines.

In the fierce struggle near historic Naples, the allies still had air superiority, but the Germans had closer airfields, permitting them to fly many sorties a day with a small number of planes. The allied bridgehead is not yet

RELIEF COSTS DOWN

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14—Ohio relief costs plummeted to a new monthly low of $514,000 in August, compared with $522,578 in July, the state welfare department reported today. The relief bill for the first eight months of 1943 will total an estimated $4,786,875, down 44 per cent from the corresponding 1942 period and 60 per cent from the 1941 figure. ASK TRANSFER OF JEWS TO PALESTINE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14—The Zionist organization of America is asking the United Nations to arrange "transfer of the maximum number of Jewish refugees into Palestine—the one country where they flee, they will find an immediate haven and a permanent home."

In a resolution adopted at the close of its 46th annual convention yesterday, the organization requested that "political, technical and financial instrumentalities" be provided to accomplish the transfer.

Delegates also urged immediate discussion between United Nations leaders and the Jewish Agency for Palestine to determine the help Palestine should give Jewish refugees now and "to secure the Jewish commonwealth's rightful place in a post-war world based upon the four freedoms and the Atlantic charter."

They reiterated a pledge made by their new president, Dr Israel Goldstein of New York, according Arabs full rights of citizenship in a Jewish commonwealth.

Dr. James G. Heller of Cincinnati, chairman of the national Zionist administrative council, appealed to President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill "to fit Palestine into the plan of a better world after the war."

FERGUSON TO HOLD COUNTY CONFERENCES

Auditor Maps Meetings at Columbus Parley.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O. Sept. 14—State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson is planning to hold a series of county and district meetings throughout Ohio to spur enthusiasm among Buckeye democrats.

He announced his intentions yesterday at his informal state convention to demand more federal patronage for Ohio party members. Ferguson, only Democrat to hold a major elective state office, assailed federal civil service in support of his charge that Ohio Democrats were not getting their share of federal appointments.

"I know the U. S. civil service is rotten," he asserted to the 100 county and local Democratic leaders attending the meeting. "It is as rotten as the state civil service."

Former Rep. Garrett S. Claypool of Chillicothe said responsibility for lack of more federal patronage rested on Chambers of Commerce, which he said had set up many federal agencies, and Gov. Bricker, who was responsible, he added, for setting up the various rationing agencies. He declared President Roosevelt was not to blame.

Canteen Seeks Gifts of Fruit

With the apple and grape harvest season getting well under way the women's canteen at the Union depot is calling for assistance in the way of fruit for the baskets provided for service men and women passing through the city daily.

Refreshments in the way of fruit and popcorn were provided for more men and women in the armed forces during August than at any time in the history of the canteen, Mrs. Eugene Willey, chairman, said today. According to the records [illegible] bushels of apples were purchased in five days and 200 pounds of corn popped for the baskets during the same period. On the "income" side of the ledger the funds are low, the records show.

Anyone contributing fruit and anything to keep their baskets will receive baskets in exchange at the canteen, the workers said.

As always, current magazines are in demand and at present there is a great need for playing cards.

Drivers Urged To Get Licenses Now

Approximately 1,700 drivers' and chauffeurs' licenses have been issued at the local office of the bureau of motor vehicles since the 1944 licenses went on sale a week ago today. The number is around 300 less than was issued in the corresponding week last year, James E. Messenger, deputy registrar, stated.

Unless operators of motor vehicles choose an early date to obtain their licenses the delay will cause a congestion around the closing date which is midnight, Sept. 30, Mr. Messenger points out. The office is well staffed and has ample supplies to care for all registrants and it is the hope of the deputy registrar and his staff that drivers come in early for licenses.

The office is open each day from 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. and also through the noon hour, and in order to accommodate persons who are unable to call during the day, the office will be open Wednesday evening from 7 to 9 p. m.

It is necessary, Mr. Messenger points out, that drivers bring with them their 1943 licenses in order to register the serial number.

GAST

1936 and the entire population honored the man who had held some public office almost continually for 46 years. His record at that time included 14 years as mayor, four as justice of the peace and 20 as health officer. He also was president o fthe Commercial club several times, an organization of the Prospect business men. His interest in band work dated back to 1872 and for 64 years he played in band concerts without missing a season.

He was born Aug. 25, 1856 to David and Catherine Rowe Gast in Prospect and was the grandson of Christian Gast, who laid out the Prospect community. He was married Jan. 2, 1881 to the former Miss Mattie Boxwell, who died in December 1937. They were the parents of one child who died at the age of seven.

First Public Office

His first public office was held in 1890 when he was corporation clerk. He served one term and then was selected as councilman and from then on he served variously as mayor, health officer, councilman and justice of the peace, an office which he held at the time of his eightieth birthday. He was known also as an operator of a hotel in Prospect for three years and held a partnership in a grocery. The sanitarium which he operated was started with his help in 1869.

Although he had no financial interest in the Prospect Electric company, his activities and interest were instrumental in providing the community with electrical power. Likewise he helped in having the interurban line run through the town. In January of 1936 Mr. and Mrs. Gast celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. Gast was a member of the Lutheran church at Prospect. He is survived by 15 nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p. m. at the Lutheran church with Rev. Paul Dobberstein officiating. Burial will be in the Prospect cemetery. Friends may call at the Gast Sanitarium after 8 p. m. this evening.

Ohioans Map Legislative Plans As Congress Meets

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 — Twenty-four Ohio men and a woman are ready to take up where they left off two months ago trying to reflect in congress the sentiments and hopes of their people.

They are the state's senators and representatives, refreshed by their first "vacation" in a long time and happier because of war news that points to quicker victory, perhaps, than was indicated a few months ago.

Besides new and urgent legislation for war, the law-makers face the prospect of considering another big tax bill in an election year, renegotiation of war contracts, and perhaps measures to guide the nation in postwar world.

Ohioans apparently agree the United States will cooperate in some manner to assure future peace, and swift developments might make it necessary for this congress to chart a definite course.

Reflecting sentiment for action now is Sen. Harold H. Burton of Cleveland, who wants congress to commit the country to full collaboration to prevent aggression and to maintain an international police force.

"The surrender of Italy doesn't assure a quick break-up of Germany," he suggested, "but it does emphasize the urgency for progress toward a postwar policy."

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, too, is ready to help draft a program but he wants to make sure that traditional American rights are preserved.

Ohioans at Mackinac

Several Ohioans, among them Senator Taft and Representatives Frances P. Bolton of Cleveland and Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, went to Mackinac Island, Mich., where the Republicans got together on a postwar policy seemingly acceptable to the different lines of thought within the party. The subject will be rehashed during the coming months.

But despite the problems ahead, returning members enjoyed a few days of joviality, greeting colleagues and looking over the capitol, made spick and span by a crew of painters and renovators during the recess.

Everyone seemed glad to get back. The recess provided a change of scenery but few of the legislators vacationed in the sense that most people do when they depart from their jobs.

Senators Taft and Burton made a great many speeches, visited and talked with party leaders and constituents. Taft was a member of the committee which drafted his party's postwar statement of policy at Mackinac island.

Except for Rep. Robert Jones of Lima, Buckeye members left Washington immediately for a few days after the recess began, although some of them were in and out of the capital later. Jones stayed on until a few weeks ago. He investigated government-spending and accumulated figures intended to show that more economy would not interfere with the war effort.

Representative-At-Large George Bender of Cleveland plans to carry forward his demands for legislation to help the white collar workers plugging along on salaries he considers out of line with wartime living costs.

Plans Poll Tax Fight

Bender also said he would renew his fight against poll taxes which he contended has provided the enemy, particularly Japan, with ammunition for propaganda implying that the United States practiced discrimination.

Rep. J. Harry McGregor of West Lafayette, is preparing to press for action on his bill to assure social security benefits to men and women in military service.

One of the busiest men is Rep. Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton. He is a member of the house ways and means committee which must prepare new tax legislation and consider the controversial question of contract negotiation. The committee was in session before the recess ended.

Problems arising from war activities will take up much of the time of Reps. Charles H. Elston and William E. Hess of Cincinnati, John M. Vorys of Columbus, Henderson H. Carson of Canton, Michael J. Kirwan of Youngstown, Michael A. Feighan, Robert Crosser and Mrs Bolton, all from Cleveland districts; Homer A. Ramey of Toledo, Ed Rowe of Akron, and Harry P. Jeffrey of Dayton.

A pressing question before them is renegotiation of war contracts, a process by which the government hopes to halt excessive profits. A number of Ohio industrialists are urging modification of the program, suggesting drastic profit cuts might prevent accumulation of reserves for postwar development and employment.

The farmer's problems will hold the attention of Rep. Cliff Clevenger of Bryan, sharp critic of many administration farm policies. Rep. Edward O. McCowen of Wheelersburg returned prepared to keep up his almost constant attendance at house sessions.

McCowen and Senator Taft are planning to ask the war production board to review a decision refusing Portsmouth and New Boston priorities on materials for completion of a flood wall.

Brown Views Gas Rationing

Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Blanchester will resume his efforts to simplify gasoline rationing. He is a member of a committee named for that purpose. Brown also has his heart set on winning passage of his bill to authorize postage-free transportation of periodicals to service people.

Dr. Frederick C. Smith, Marion representative, will renew his efforts to improve the country's financial structure. Long a student of finance, Smith is a member of the banking and currency committee.

The Logan dentist-legislator, Walter E. Brehm, will be happy if he can complete his plan of laying groundwork for development of the natural resources of southeastern Ohio. He discussed his proposal with President Roosevelt and reported it was favorably received.

The state's only bachelor-representative, Alvin F. Weichel, Sandusky, like all his Buckeye colleagues, puts the war ahead of everything and plans little legislation of his own.

Rep. Earl Lewis of St. Clairsville is giving considerable attention to coal mining problems in the light of the law abolishing the bituminous coal division. Lewis is prepared to support legislation to renew the coal act if indications point to extreme post-war price fluctuations.

Rep. P. W. Griffiths of Marietta and others from the river country will push flood control legislation both to protect communities from high waters and provide postwar employment.

WARREN, O., Sept. 14—Erie railroad traffic was maintained by rerouting today after derailment of 14 eastbound cars of fruit near Leavittsburg. Cause of the derailment was not determined.

Anniversary Is Marked by Union Auxiliary Group

THE fourth anniversary of the organization of Ladies Auxiliary No. 277 to Roosevelt Lodge No. 1281 and Local No 1059, Erie Machinists, was celebrated with a 6 o'clock dinner last evening at the Manor House. American Flags and tall lighted white tapers in crystal holders decorated the three long tables arranged throughout the rooms, and each was centered with a birthday cake topped with four small American Flags, carrying out the auxiliary colors of red, white and blue.

Mrs Hazel Robbins spoke the invocation and Mrs. Mae Baldauf extended greetings. Responses were given by the four past presidents, Mrs. Dorothy Dulin, Mrs Margaret Beverly, Mrs. Sarah Johnson and Mrs. Anda Robinson. Each was presented a rose corsage, and Mrs Mary McGuire, vice president, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs Baldauf with a gift. Mrs Beverly, a state organizer, who recently was named a national organizer, gave a talk on her work and told of the organization of an auxiliary at Youngstown recently.

Mrs. Evelyn Hollandshead, historian, gave a history of the auxiliary which was organized June 30, 1939 and installed on Sept 11 of the same year. There are more than 65 members on the roster and the goal is set for 100 by the end of the year. Wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of members of Lodge 1281 and Local 1059 are eligible for membership. A picture of the group was taken.

Miss Marjorie Smith conducted a quiz on "What's My Name?" with honors going to Mrs. Marie Burke and Mrs. Lucile Edington. Mrs Hattie Harper received a special award. Roll call was conducted at a short business session when it was announced that the Sept. 27 meeting would be a business session instead of a social meeting.

Every reasonable consideration will be given the contestant, consistent with fairness to other contestants.

Why READ is Conducting This Contest

Like all other publications, READ is limited by wartime paper restrictions on the number of copies it can publish. At present, most of READ's circulation is represented by newsstand sales. While in normal times, with unlimited paper, these sales would be more than satisfactory, nevertheless there remain each month on the newsstands a valuable number of unsold copies. These, we believe, represent potential circulation for READ, and an opportunity for added reading enjoyment on the part of the public. It is the purpose of this contest which offers $25,000 in Prizes to increase our number of regular mail subscribers by utilizing the normal number of unsold copies at the newsstands, thus taking full advantage of the allotted amount of paper which READ is permitted to use.

Enclose 15 Cents in Coin with Each Series of Solutions

When sending in each Series of solutions, the rules require that you enclose 15 cents in coin. In return for same you will receive READ magazine for such period as is covered by the total of your remittances and in accordance with READ's regular published rates. You will receive the magazine to the full amount of your 15 cent payments, irrespective of any cash prize won. Mail your entry by midnight, Thursday, Sept. 16th.

READ Will Be Mailed to You When We Receive Your Entry

As explained in the rules, you will receive READ in return for the remittances accompanying your puzzle solutions in this contest. Immediately upon receiving your Entry, we will mail you the various Series of puzzles as issued, and in addition, we will mail to you the September issue of READ. Obviously, as a result of the interest in this contest, many newsstands may be out of READ. Please remember, therefore, that you will receive your copy by mail.

HOW TO SOLVE THE PUZZLES

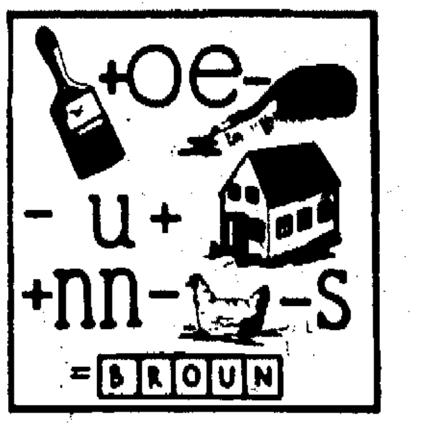
(SAMPLE PUZZLE)



Note the Sample Puzzle above. It was purposely made easy to show you how to solve the puzzles. Notice that there are several objects illustrated and also that there are several plus and minus signs, which means that you add or subtract. Let's solve the puzzle together. The first object is a BRUSH. Therefore, write down the letters B-R-U-S-H. Next you are told to add the letters OE, and by so doing you have B-R-U-S-H-O-E. Then you see a minus sign followed by a HOSE, which means that you deduct the letters H-O-S-E. That leaves you B-R-U, from which you are then told to deduct U, leaving you B-R. Next you are told to add HOUSE and the letters NN, giving you B-R-H-O-U-S-E-N-N. From that deduct HEN and the letter S, and you have B-R-O-U-N, the last name of the late famous columnist, Heywood BROUN.

Congress Please Come To Order

CONGRESSMEN probably didn't learn half as much from their constituents during their recess as their constituents want to think they did. But that's understandable. The constituents have a diverse point of view.

Perhaps the only thing they all agree on all the time is the need for better ways of doing things—a need made serious by the hurly-burly of war. They would like to have more order in national affairs.

Insofar as they think about it, they would like to have more order in congress itself. In the last few years they have begun to recognize that the most important thing about the American form of government is the fact that it gets results, not that it looks good on paper. They want congress to keep working.

They want congress to get abreast of the times, because if it doesn't the big parade of bureaucracy may pass by and leave the legislators playing with the rubber stamps given them in the early days of the Roosevelt administration.

They want congress to be on its toes in the determination of foreign policy. If representatives and senators don't speak for the ordinary people of the United States in the debate on how to stave off another war in 1969, or sooner, who will?

They want congress to keep a watchful and judicious eye on the antics of the characters who have attached themselves to the government for the purpose of doing away with congress, if possible. They don't want congress to take any wooden nickels, to put it bluntly.

They want it to improve its own procedures, if that's what it needs to become more effectual. They don't want to hear about any more bills being passed by congressmen who didn't know what they were voting on because they had no way to find out.

They want congressmen to lay off the financial marijuana popular in the Roosevelt administration and pay more attention to the beans without pork standard of millions of people who are going to pay the bills. They want congressmen to forget that attitude of papa-knows-best and start asking embarrassing questions all over the place. They even want congress to ask whether all the money spent in the name of the war effort is necessary, because there isn't a constituent with good eyesight and ordinary sense in the United States who hasn't seen all kinds of wanton waste.

They don't want congress to go along with the treasury experts on any more bad jokes like the Einstein-theory withholding tax that was foisted on the public. They want congress to be fearless about taxation, but not foolish.

They want congress to do everything necessary to preserve its dignity against the threat of executive domination which usually is worst in wartime, but has been acute for the last 10 years of continuous emergency, including the wartime period. They want to be able to say every once in a while when speaking about a congressman, "Now there's a politician who talks sense. He almost sounds like a statesman."

In brief, the people want representative democracy to work better than it ever worked before, to dispose once and for all of the notion that maybe what this country needs is a nice, benevolent, soft-eyed dictator, holding a club behind his back.

Relative Shortages

FINAL decision on the moot question of drafting family men will be made on a basis of relative shortages. When the question comes up for discussion on the floor of congress—as it now seems bound to come up—military needs will be weighed against production needs.

The plainly evident shortage of manpower in industry will be weighed against an apparent shortage of manpower in the armed forces. It will be necessary for spokesmen representing the Army and Navy to establish more firmly than they have publicly established so far their claim to all the manpower they need, at the possible expense to the already established need of manpower for industrial production.

In virtually every instance where a similar issue has presented itself, the military need has been placed first, which is as it should be. But congress now seems in a mood to discuss in considerable detail the probable effect of a further curtailment of manpower in war production. It seems likely that a complete airing of the whole situation is going to be the result. If congress decides, after looking into the matter, that military needs justify the drafting of family men, it may be assumed that its doubts have been resolved by the testimony of military officials who have been questioned.

News Behind the News

Willkie Believed Yielding To Opinions of His Home State G. O. P. Leaders.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Wendell Willkie has given some signs of becoming a slightly altered man since his long sit-and-talk sessions on the Elwood rail fence with the Hoosier Republicans.

Little wisps of unsigned statements from him lately have done much, trimming the Willkie brand of globaloney represented by his "One World" view. Also announcing he will campaign for the Republican state candidate for lieutenant governor of New York.

The Hoosier county politicos and the 77 national committeemen who see him in Indiana are getting much credit within the party for having inspired these developments. The politicos talked gently to Willkie because they were not sure how strong he is, but made little secret of their current opposition to him.

Say 2 Things Needed

They know he has a powerful organization and many friends and they, like everyone else, always want to be with the winner. But they told Willkie he must do two things if he is to get more than a minority of his ex-home state delegation to the Republican convention:

First, he must prove by actions that he is actually a Republican, drop his individualistic rule and do something to help the party and other people in it.

Second he must show also that his policies are not a rubber stamp of the New Deal in international affairs.

Willkie came back at them trying to justify his position. Victory next year he said rested less upon party ties than upon getting the big independent vote. He also said he had nothing in mind like Wallace, and would make the difference clear.

What he has done since is in line with these Hoosier conference developments, but there must be more if he is to start with Indiana.

As the Hoosier politicos tell it, Willkie has reason to be a very discouraged man at the moment.

Jap Position at Home

Unofficial talk has been heard here that Japan may break internally after Germany falls, and bring a swift conclusion of the world war a long time before the six years forecast by our admirals.

The idea is founded on the supposition that Jap shipping losses have prevented her from consolidating her newly won empire and from getting her vast new stores of raw materials into war production. No one here can have any conclusive evidence in that respect.

Before Pearl Harbor, the Jap militarists crushed all political opposition and there has been but one party since. No anti-government movement has developed in Tokyo as far as we know. The hold of the militarists on the people is complete because of the Shinto-Buddhist religious background of the nationalists movement.

Everyone in Japan thinks he is sacrificing to get necessary raw material for a greater nation. They would no doubt kill the emperor and change around in a minute if they thought national interests required the opposite view, but the chance of such a movement arising within Japan is far less than in Germany.

Japan no doubt can be cleaned up within a year or so after Germany by a direct invasion spearheaded with the overwhelming combined British and American fleets, released from their European responsibilities.

Certainly we will have a new Navy department and a lot of new admirals if it takes anywhere near six years.

MacArthur Tactics

General MacArthur's recent brilliant tactics were aimed at conquest of the Huon peninsula of New Guinea, above Lae. Once there, his position not only will make Rabaul too hot to hold, but he will then have a wedge in the center of the whole Jap South Pacific line, stretching from Java to the Gilbert islands.

In a large sense, however, MacArthur is merely holding the Japs by keeping them on the defensive. His limited resources will not permit any great decisive action.

The final crushing blow against Japan no doubt will be aimed directly at the mainland, although we may be shooting Japs out of trees in the South Pacific islands for 20 years after the war is over.

Gerow "A Born Leader"

U. S. Ground Boss in Britain a Lifelong Fighter.

HOT FIGHT faces Major General Leonard Townsend Gerow, commander of the Americans in Britain preparing to strike at the continent.

• • •

By FRANK E. TAYLOR
Associated Press Writer

PETERSBURG, Va., Sept. 14—The two small brothers were fighting—going at it hammer and tongs—when their mother intervened and ordered the two to sit and reflect upon their wrong doing.

They dutifully sat, but once released the two retired to their backyard and went back to fighting.

That was some 45 years ago.

Today, one of those brothers—Leonard Townsend Gerow—has another big fight on his hands: this time as the new commander of the United States ground forces in Britain which are being primed to strike at the continent.

Since that early boyhood scrap, Major General Gerow has seen much action to prove he is a fighting man.

He "fought" for and won the distinction of being the only man of his class at Virginia Military Institute to be called into the Regular Army with rank of second lieutenant without further examination except for a physical.

Plenty of Experience

He has served on the Mexican border, in the First World war, in the Philippines and in China. In the first World war he won the Distinguished Service Medal and the decoration of the French Legion of Honor.

Before succeeding Maj. Gen. Russell P. Hartle as commanding officer of the American forces in Britain, he served as chief of the United States Army staff's war plans division and later as commander of the 29th Division.

"General Gee," as he is known to his men, or "Big Gee" as many of his early friends call him, was reared in surroundings strongly influenced by family ties.

The Gerow brothers—"Big Gee," "Little Gee" who is Brig. Gen. Lee Saunders Gerow, George and Joe—together with their sister, Mrs. Freeman W. Jones, of Roanoke, spent a great deal of their childhood playing in the Gerow backyard.

"There were always gangs of all ages playing in our yard," Mrs. Jones recalled.

"The family had no great amount of money," Mrs. Jones said, "but we did learn to amuse ourselves and we had a good library. All of us read a lot.

"I remember the boys read stories of Viking sailors and King Arthur's roundtable, and played with wooden swords and shields of kettle tops."

Made for Leadership

At Virginia Military Institute, "Big Gee," also known as "Jeremiah," was described by his classmates as a "born leader." He was an honor man in his class of 1911.

He could "get tough," classmates recalled, but was ready to give a helping hand to those who needed help.

Colonel Henley P. Boykin, of the class of 1912 and now on the V.M.I. faculty recalled that Cadet Capt. Gerow was "fair and easy on 'rats' (V.M.I. fourth classmen), but rough on old cadets if they did not 'put out' for the company."

Lt. Col. Blandy B. Clarkson, associate professor of mathematics and director of athletics at V.M.I., recalled that he was a "rat" tackle during Gerow's first class year when he managed the football team.

"He was a good football manager," Col. Clarkson said.

Brenner Pass

The report of United States heavy bombers destroying a railroad line in the Brenner pass, most important link between Germany and northeastern Italy, does not suggest any possibility of cutting off communications between Germany and its troops in Italy. The main land communication now may be through southeastern France.

The Brenner, less than 4,500 feet above sea level at its greatest height, is lowest of the passes through the main range of the Alps into Italy. The pass is about 70 miles long.

In the Brenner the railroad passes over 67 bridges and 22 tunnels, the grade is rarely over 2½ per cent. It is the scene of strong fortifications. Its importantance is increased by the fact that east-west passes connect with it and also a railway from Austria on the east. However, its destruction as an avenue of communication, if that can be accomplished, is discounted by the German occupation of Francee, making it possible to send troops and supplies to Italy by that route.

Fish Are Noisy

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, D. C. — U. S. submarine crews report that fish down 10 fathoms or so make all sorts of noises, often confused with the sound of enemy propellers. According the the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior, "fish grunt, purr, drum, grind their teeth and make a variety of other noises that create strong underwater vibrations."

SHIPPING FOR LIBERTY IS MAJOR U. S. JOB

THIS is the Liberty ship, one of America's major replies to the submarine menace. She isn't rakish nor particularly fast, but she is a sturdy sea-going truck that hauls 9,000 tons of general cargo. First designed in 1941 as part of the Lease-Lend program, hundreds of Liberty ships have been built, hundreds more will put to sea this year. Standardized to the last small gasket, she is steam driven by reciprocating engines, is economical on fuel; has five cargo holds. These sketches show step-by-step growth.

It was Friday, Sept. 14, 1923.

The Spanish cabinet handed in its resignation to King Alfonso as the result of a revolt started by an uprising of the Barcelona garrison. Gen. Rivera, formerly commander of the garrison, was asked by the king to form a new ministry.

It was announced that the Marion chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution would present a gold medal to the Harding High school senior making the highest grades in American history and civics each year in the future.

Josiah Bindley, J. F. Prendergast and J. E. Waddell were named appraisers of the estate of President Harding. Charles D. Schaffner, named as executor in the will of the late president, furnished $750,000 bond.

A 10-day-old baby boy, found in a pasteboard box besides the Delaware pike Thursday, had been given into the custody of Mrs. Addison Bain, matron of the Marion County Juvenile home. She said that unless the baby was claimed within the next few days he would be given a home with one of the numerous persons who had called and signified their willingness to adopt him.

The fingerprint system which had recently been adopted by the Marion police department revealed that John R. Murphy, one of the men apprehended in an attempted burglary of the J. R. Rawlings & Son store, had a long criminal record. He had previously been arrested in Los Angeles under the name of M. R. Garver on a forgery charge and was later turned over as a deserter from the army and found guilty. Murphy, after being sentenced from Marion, attracted nationwide attention as a fiction writer while in the Ohio penitentiary.

How Peace Came Last Time

Bulgaria Started Landslide 25 Years Ago.

ITALY'S collapse, which has been likened to the armistice with Bulgaria 25 years ago, in September, 1918, is prodding almost forgotten recollections of how World war I moved swiftly to its conclusion by the next November.

Austria-Hungary, chief of Germany's satellites in that war, was first to ask for peace. On Sept. 15, 1918, it sent all nations, neutral and belligerent, a request for a non-binding conference on peace. President Wilson replied that the United States already had stated its terms and no conference was in order.

On Oct. 4, with Bulgaria out of the war, Germany asked the United States to invite all belligerents to start peace negotiations. It accepted his peace program as set forth in the famous "fourteen points" and various addresses. Pending peace, Germany asked an armistice. Mr. Wilson asked the German government on Oct. 8 if it wanted to negotiate only on the practical application of his peace principles, if it spoke only for the group which had conducted the war and pointed out that he could not propose an armistice while the German armies were on Allied soil.

On Oct. 12 Germany replied that it wanted to discuss how the Wilson terms could be worked out, that it spoke for a majority in the reichstag and was a new government. Germany, it said, would evacuate all foreign territory.

President Wilson replied that armistice and evacuation details would be handled by military authorities. He said there could be no armistice while Germany continued submarine warfare and looted districts being evacuated. He said the German people would have to get rid of their wartime government.

Germany replied on Oct. 20 that it expected the armistice terms to safeguard the existing military situation, but trusted Mr. Wilson not to approve any demands "irreconcilable with the honor of the German people." Submarine warfare would be ended and also any evacuation practices contrary to international law. Germany said a ministry had been formed from and responsible to the reichstag and a bill to give the reichstag power over future war decisions had been voted.

Therefore, on Oct. 23, Wilson told Germany he was submitting its peace offer to the Allies, but warned again they would demand unconditonal surrender if the "military masters and monarchial autocrats" of Germany were still in power. On Oct. 27, Germany replied that it appreciated all this, and awaited the proposal for an armistice. On Oct. 30, Germany sent further details of steps taken to make its governmental system democratic. On the same day Turkey signed armistice terms.

On Nov. 4 Wilson told Germany that the Allies accepted the peace principles, with two exceptions. The question of the freedom of the seas was to be left open, and Germany would have to pay for the damage wrought by her aggression. On the same day Austria-Hungary, with which Wilson had been negotiating separately, signed armistice terms. The German peace delegates arrived at Marshal Foch's headquarters on Nov. 7, were received on Nov. 8, complained for several days of the harshness of the armistice terms handed them, signed them Nov. 11.

Herbert Hoover, Now 69, Can Be Called Contender Any More for the Republican Nomination.

By DAMON RUNYON

FORMER President Herbert Hoover is 69 years old.

This is supposed to be more age weig a candidate for President can pack. Ot the Republicans would not have to be ing around in the dark looking for sometimes called a standard bearer. T of Palo Alto would be their man.

Mr. Hoover's recent speech at Min on the problems of world peace seems made a more profound impression on tomers than the utterances of any pu since all the gab about the world after started. A large number of folks Hoover talked mighty sound sense.

He is the first man to tell us small something practical and tell it in sim guage that we can at least halfway unde Most of us are dopes on this particular All the rest of our national mastermi been giving us double-talk, and we are much befuddled.

When Mr. Hoover pointed out that afte years of war, the illusion still persists can be made by signing papers, he put on a question that has been puzzling a muggs.

THIS QUESTION is how any persons today can suddenly discover that th smart enough to do something that has man for centuries, which is to eliminate the same processes of meetings and agree that have always failed before.

To do that, they would have to elimina underlying causes of war, which are greed and human passion. Even us num do not believe that is possible. We do th war can be staved off for long periods as this nation is concerned by what Mr. H calls "our strong right arm," and that by jo this strength with other strong arms we able to keep peace in the whole world indef ly. But we are mixed up as to the exact me and so are our master-minds.

Mr. Hoover thinks there should be a off spell for a considerable period after the instead of a huffle-scuffle peace conference of a large number of delegates from 40 different nations all in vengeful mood but with fully prepared in advance. He thinks that in any event the peace should not be left to the le ders of people but to the people themselves.

HE WOULD probably be the best man in the United States to deal for this country at the peace table, though you can have all the I you want if you think he will be there. One the big demerit marks registered against the administration in this war is the ignoring of the former President's wisdom and experience when men of wisdom and experience are badly nee

Mr. Hoover is our only living former presiden He was 54 when he was inaugurated in 1929 and got a tough break in the worst depression in tory. His enemies made the most of it aga him, yet it was a world depression and no human being could have prevented it. A serious drou and the banking crisis added to the disasters of his administration. He was greatly criticized ordering troops to evict the bonus army of veterans of World war I from Washington.

The old soldiers have always remembered incident in his disfavor, though President Roosevelt's subsequent vetoes of bonus bills and reductions of pensions seem to have been forg Mr. Hoover, an able, earnest, honest and sin man, was ill-starred, politically, throughout his administration.

He was what you might call in a definite receptive mood at the Republican convention that nominated Alfred M. Landon and his name was occasionally mentioned in the meeting that put up Wendell Willkie. Now, though his mind remains the best in the Republican party, he probably all through politically because he is 69, the same age as the man who is calling the Allies' signals in this war, Winston Churchill.

Small Talk

By Truman Twill

"GOING downtown?"

"Sure, you don't think I'm perched on this curb waiting for the sunrise, do you, chum? Yes, indeed, I want a ride downtown. Thanks a lot!"

"Chilly this morning, isn't it?"

"A lot you know about it, pal. What do think those bumps all over my face and are—mosquito bites? Yes, a little more of and the moths will have to be chased out of the old benny, heh, heh."

"Heard the news this morning?"

"Now, look, how would I be hearing the news planted in the middle of the landscape? You don't see any antenna on me anywhere, do you or a portable radio set strapped on my No. I haven't heard the news. Is it good?"

"I don't know. Just wondered if you knew."

"Oh, a pumper, huh. Well, don't think minute you're going to get anything out of Probably you're looking for someone to with. I guess nothing new has happened."

"Had a little trouble getting the old started this morning. Thought I was going have to bum a ride with my neighbor. Cold weather, I guess."

"Cold weather, my eye, Pollyanna. Bad spark plugs and a played-out battery would be like it. What makes the thing run anyway? That's what you can expect this time of year. Nothing so handy as a good neighbor, is there?"

"No, this fellow and I help each other the time."

"Oh, so that's the way it is. Trying to a poor hitch-hiker feel embarrassed. Prob angling for a cup of coffee. Care for a cigaret?"

"No, I don't smoke. Where do you get"

"Oh, don't worry. I'll get out soon I won't light the thing now anyway. And harm would it do if I did? With all the wind open it would blow away. How far you go"

"I have to stop at the next corner for a minutes, then I'm going east."

"That's a lot of trouble to go to to get a passenger, especially when all the stores closed anyway. Just let me out there and will be fine."

"Well, here we are."

"Well, darned if we aren't. This was a great favor. For once I'll get to work on time. Thanks a lot."

"You're welcome. Glad to be of Goodbye."

"I must cultivate this guy. He may be for a lot of rides. Goodbye. Hope to see you again."

Flying hundreds of sorties, allied planes including every type from A-36 invaders to Flying Fortresses attacked Nazi roads and convoys, and 10 enemy planes were destroyed yesterday.

The allied communique gave no details of the situation at Salerno, saying merely:

"Heavy fighting continues on the Fifth army front. The Germans are counter-attacking desperately and at certain points have regained some of the ground taken by us."

The Eighth army advanced approximately 15 miles up the west coast of Italy to reach Cosenza, 90 miles from Reggio Di Calabria and at about the center of the arch of the Italian foot. Cosenza is about [illegible] miles from Salerno.

On the heel of the boot other British forces were expanding their holdings out of Taranto and Brindisi.

One column was at Bari 65 miles north of Brindisi on the Adriatic, and another, cutting diagonally across the heel from Taranto, was at Gioja, about midway between the naval base and Bari.

The American and British troops composing Clark's army who were landed on the coastal plain south of Salerno were fighting their way desperately toward the mountains from which the Germans were pouring down a murderous fire on the invasion beaches.

"The fighting is extremely heavy and it certainly is the bitterest land fighting encountered by an allied landing force in this war," a military officer said.

The reconstituted Hermann Goering division, the same one which gave the Americans and British so much trouble in northern Tunisia near Medjez El Bab and in Sicily and the 16th and 16th armored divisions, among the best the Germans have, were contesting the American advance.

From the cloudy military and political situation on the Italian mainland the best information available gave this picture:

1—Germany, with 15 to 20 divisions in Italy at the start of the campaign, has poured into the Italian boot tens of thousands more soldiers drawn from France and possibly Russia.

This, combined with the reported appointment of Field Marshal Erwin Rommel as commanding officer in Italy indicates that Germany is establishing a battle line which may satisfy even the Russian concept of a "second front"—one which will engage at least 50 Nazi divisions.

2—The Germans also are reinforcing their air strength in Italy.

3—Despite Italian surrender the Germans have a firm grip on all strategic points from Naples north to the Po river, where a great final battle may well decide the war.

4—The Americans are launched on a campaign which seems likely to be their biggest and bloodiest of the war and the biggest for British troops since the fall of France.

5—If Germany is defeated in Italy it likely means the collapse of her satellites in the Balkans.

Subsidies on Food Return To Plague Congressmen Again

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Congress returned to the capitol today and found right on the doorstep the problem child—food subsidies—it had abandoned in July to go on vacation.

Chester Bowles, the business man who came in as general manager of the office of price administration (OPA) while congress was away, had the baby dressed differently but he sang the lullaby congress heard before:

If food prices are to be curtailed—and reduced to or near the levels of last Sept. 15, which congress wanted—some of the job must be done by subsidies or bonuses.

Milk is the item specifically needing congressional help through subsidy or bonus for the dairy farmer, said Bowles who also reported a drop in living costs and an attempt to cut them further by a new program to whittle food prices.

Senate Backed Up

After battling itself red in the face over food subsidies earlier in the summer, the senate finally recessed in such haste it abandoned the ban it had placed on subsidies.

At that time the controversial items were meat and butter but OPA has gone ahead with them, depressing prices by a subsidy of about 350 million dollars obtained from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC).

Congressional feeling toward OPA may have softened in the meantime for before it departed it gave orders that no man lacking business experience should control price-making policies after Aug. 16.

And Bowles, confidently whipping out his report card, said in a lengthy statement last night:

Only eight of OPA's price bosses came under the congressional law and were being replaced; OPA's much criticized legal department, as such, will be scrapped; a system of tokens will be substituted for food ration stamps, probably early this winter; no matter what the amount of gasoline allowed on "A" cards hereafter there will be no "legal strings attached"; the public will get more OPA information and facts, "the bitter along with the sweet"; and OPA price panels have orders against "snooping and coercion."

2.3 Per Cent Cut

A new OPA program now in the final stages is expected to chop another 2.3 per cent off living costs by forcing down prices on apples, oranges, onions, potatoes, lard, vegetable oils and peanut butter.

A new ceiling control over winter fruits and vegeables, intended to hold prices 15 per cent below the levels paid last winter, also was announced by the OPA general manager.

The roll back would be accomplished through a $100,000,000 government program of transportation subsidies, government crop purchase and resale, and in the case of peanut butter and probably lard, rollback subsidies within the financial limits sets by congress.

Partial effects of the program will be felt by mid-October or November, Bowles told a press conference.

It will be followed up with a price program on winter fruits and vegetables, which Bowles said would bring their prices down to "about 15 per cent less than last winter."

The $100,000,000 now is available, but additional funds from congress will be necessary, Bowles said, in order to hold down the price of milk.

Milk Price Action

Asserting some action would be necessary soon to put a lid on milk prices and still encourage expanded output from dairy farms, Bowles said he hoped congress would approve the use of a subsidy or production bonus payments to producers.

The OPA program expected to be announced shortly will, according to Bowles, achieve the following price reductions to consumers on staple grocery store items:

Apples: A cut to 8.75 or 9 cents a pound, by comparison with prices of 10, 12 or 15 cents at present; a theoretical decline of 17 per cent.

Oranges: A cut to 9.7 cents a pound at retail, as an annual average, compared with a present average of 11.2 cents a pound.

Potatoes: A rollback to 3.5 cents a pound annual average, compared with average now is 18.9 cents.

Peanut butter: A new top ceiling of 26.5 cents a pound compared with the present level of about 33.3 cents.

Movie Troupe Due Tomorrow

horses are [illegible] much better [illegible].

Wayne "Curly" Smart of Ostrander [illegible] veteran reinsman [illegible]. Last year Smart, in charge of both the [illegible] and [illegible] harness [illegible], finished the season as the nation's third leading race pilot. He scored 83 track victories during the season.

Stars of Track Here

But while plans are pushed for the opening of the three-day race meeting and for arrival of the Twentieth-Century money-makers, the [illegible] county has been [illegible] a [illegible] delegation with the arrival of a number of the nation's leading harness stables. A count of noses shortly after noon yesterday revealed that between 50 and 75 horses are already on the grounds awaiting Thursday's opening race card. By Thursday noon, Race Secretary Foster expects this figure to be more than doubled.

Yet to arrive are the horses of Vic Fleming, popular Goshen, N. Y., trainer; Ben White of Lexington, Ky.; and a number of others. White, ardent railbirds recall, is the veteran sulky pilot who only a month ago became the first man ever to win the Hambletonian trotting classic four times. White nominated Director, a two-year-old trotter, and Gordon Gray, a three-year-old trotter, for the movie meeting.

With men like White and Fleming, Harry Fitzpatrick of Springfield, Ill., Fred Eagen of Aikin, S. C., and By Snively of Miami, Okla., scheduled to race, the meeting is tapped to be an even greater racing spectacle than last spring's meeting here.

Shively, first arrival at the fairgrounds, is now training five head in preparation for an assault on the fairground track record of 2:03¼, held by the great Grattan Bars. Star of the Shively stable is Gay Song, a full brother to this year's Hambletonian winner, Volo Song. Competing at Lexington last year under the guiding hand of the popular Oklahoma driver, the Gay one, now on a trot, established a pacing mark of 1:59¾.

Rated High

Gay Song, a large brown horse, was considered by horsemen as a great horse from the start. Sired by Volomite and foaled by Even Song, the Gay one, as a yearling, was purchased by E. J. Baker of Charleston, Ill., from the Walnut Hall Farms for $10,200. As a trotter the big brownie was a flop. Then the five-year-old trotter turned pacer and came into his own at Lexington last fall by winning two of the principal races and his present mark in a time race.

The races at Lexington last fall were the Volomite-sired fireball's last starts. A bad case of periodical lameness has overtaken him. He has yet to make his first 1943 start. Possibly he will not start here, possibly he will, his handlers indicated. But he's sure to get another chance at Lexington, Trainer Shively said.

In the stall immediately joining the one in which Gay Song is stabled is another Shively star, H. E. Direct, winner of a $5,000 stake at Old Orchard, Me., several weeks ago. A lean winner last year, H. E. Direct is now considered in his prime as is Lady Diana, Shively's No. 1 trotter.

Also King's Counsel

In the stable immediately at the back of the one in which Gay Song is located is another of the harness sport's greatest champions—King's Counsel, the championship pacer which Dr. H. M. Parshall recently sold to Dr. Baker for $20,000. The King, handsome Volomite-sired bay colt, was turned over to the Baker stable after winning nearly $20,000 for Parshall and a Vermont partner. In his first start of the year, King's Counsel trounced a sturdy field of free-for-all pacers during Marion's spring meeting. Harry Fitzpatrick, presently the nation's leading reinsman, will handle the King from now on.

King's Counsel, named for the free-for-all pacing event which will feature the Friday matinee card, is one of 2 head which Fitzpatrick brought to the Marion twice-around over the weekend. Other outstanding members of the Illinois stable which has accounted for a majority of the events at mid-western fairs in the last two months include six trotters and four pacers. The trotters are Worthy General 2:03, Kentucky Colonel 2:10, and Edie Warren 2.06 and Popular Mite and Joan Spencer, both green trotters. The pacers, besides King's Counsel, are Lady Hal 2:14¼, Direct Radium 2:05, Hedrick 2:06 and Scott Cash 2:09.

Another leading stable now at the half-mile fairground track is that of Fred Eagen of Aiken, S. C., who arrived over the weekend with three head. Among the trio is Luck Ahead, a four-year-old trotter owning a record of 2910¼. Owner of the trotter is C. W. Phellis of Greenwich, Conn., president of the Grand Circuit. The two other members of Eagen's stable are Morate, a four-year-old 2.06¼ trotter and Dean Shepard, a three-year-old trotter with a record of 2:08¾.

Other stables which were on hand yesterday included those of Frank Cares of Monroeville, O., Harold Bowlby of Celina, Claude Wright of Greenville, Charles McGown of Osgood, Ind., George Wilson of Eaton, Jim Edwards of Sunbury, Hugh Bell of Marion, Eddie Fellmeth of Marion, Milt Carpenter of Columbus, Harry Pownall of Goshen, N. Y.; Charles Swissheim of Hillsboro, Clint Hodgins of Toronot, Ontario, Brady Brothers of Payne, O., Sanders Russell of Stevenson, Ala., Jack Raymond of Pinehurst, N. C., Earl Roush of Canton, Herb Holles of Alliance, Pearl Morrison of Ostrander and Edgar Willis of Richwood.

Secretary Foster today posted the programs for the three days of the meeting. Outstanding is the Saturday session during which both the two and three-year-old trots, each for $1,000, will be raced along with a 12 class trot for $500 and a 15 class pace for $400.

WARD BOND

One of Hollywood stars with troupe coming to Marion.

Thursday's opening day card includes four races of three dashes each. The events are 24 and 12 class paces and 12 and 18 class trots. The 12 class events in both gaits carry a purse of $500 each while the other two events are worth $400 each.

Friday's card will be featured by three free-for-all pace, a 22 class trot and a 19 class pace. Purses of $400 have been posted for each of the three events. Already assured for the free-for-all affair are King's Counsel, the former "Doc" Parshall champion, Chuck Worthy, owned and trained by Charles McGown of Osgood Ind., Fay Sterling, from the stable of Goshen, N. Y.'s Vic Fleming, and Watson E. Direct, owned gy Charles Provost of Pittsburgh, Pa., and trained and driven by Clint Hodgins, Canadian pilot.

Harvey H. Hartman of Quackertown, Pa., who served as an associate judge at the spring meeting here and for several years starting judge for the Marion county fair race program, arrived in Marion Sunday to assist Secretary Foster with pre-meet arrangements. He will be starting judge. As yet a presiding judge has not been chosen.

Originally it was expected that Steve Phillips of Erie, Pa., would possibly serve as the starter and either Joe McGraw of Washington, Pa., or Wayne Groves of Pinehurst, N. C., possibly would serve as presiding judge. However, previous arrangements would not permit any of them from accepting appointments for the special movie meeting.

Following is a list of the horses already nominated for the three-day speed card:

4-H CLUB CALVES SOLD AT AUCTION

Junior Fair Grand Champion Brings $177.

Nine calves raised as projects by Marion county 4-H club members were sold for a total of $1,467.55 at a club calf sale conducted yesterday afternoon in connection with the weekly auction of the Marion Union stockyards.

Top price of $20.25 a hundred pounds went to Ruth Denman of near Prospect with a Black Angus beef calf weighing 875, netting her a check for $177.18. This animal had won the rating of grand champion steer of all breeds in the Marion county junior fair, winning a war bond prize offered by F. E. Williams, Marion auctioneer. The animal yesterday was purchased by Warren Wise of Marion.

Miss Denman's sister, Marjorie, marketed an Angus that brought a slightly lower price, $19 a hundred, but netted her a bigger check because her steer weighed 1,100, bringing her a total of $209. The buyer was Minor Maxwell of Cardington.

Charles Helmlich of near Waldo sold a 1,130-pound calf for $17.80 a hundred or $201.14; Esther Augenstein of south of Marion sold two, an 820-pound animal at $18.50 for a total of $151.70 and an 825-pounder for $16.80 or $138.60. Earl Augenstein sold an 805-pounder for $16.40 or $132.02. Harold Denman sold two, an 855-pounder for $16.80 or $143.64 and a 685-pounder for $16.20 or $110.97. George Wilson of near Marion sold a 1,070-pounder for $19 or $203.30.

The club members had special certificates from the county farm agent's office permitting the sale of the animals at prices above OPA ceiling levels.

Bond Sale on LaRue Festival Program

Clarence Phillippi Post No. 101 of the American Legion at LaRue will sponsor a war bond auction in LaRue Thursday through Saturday in connection with the community's annual fall festival.

Merchants and residents in and around LaRue are donating hard-to-get items to the Legion post in the interest of war bond sales. The auction will be held nightly at about 10 o'clock, Post Commander Dwight Sager, who heads the committee in charge of the program, announced. The festival program will start each night at about 7, Mr. Sager said.

C. M. Thomas of Plain City will serve as auctioneer on Saturday night. Two other auctioneers will be picked to direct the war bond sales on Thursday and Friday, the committee in charge reported.

Other members of the committee besides Mr. Sager are Keith Ridgeway, W. W. Bowles and Dr. H. A. Hoopes.

Proceeds from the festival will be used to purchase war bonds, which after the war will be used to build a Legion club house, the committee said. In a fund designed for this purpose there already is $2,100 in bonds.

Hull Has Ideas of Importance to Dictator Trio

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Herr Hitler, Signor Mussolini, General Tojo—meet Mr. Cordell Hull.

Our secretary of state has ideas which are intimately associated with your common welfare. He states that one of this country's war aims is to achieve an ironclad peace for the world, backed by nations ready to use force to maintain it. He says "if there is anything on which all right-thinking people are agreed, it is that the monstrous specter of a world war shall not again show its head."

Now you three war-lords, as instigators of the present global blood-bath, should be deeply interested in Mr. Hull's declaration. He didn't say so specifically, but his thesis certainly seems to contemplate putting all of you out of circulation, because there can be no possible assurance of peace so long as you remain at large (or do you remain at large, Signor Mussolini?).

Of course, Messrs Hitler and Mussolini, you wouldn't remember it, but back at the time of the fateful Munich conference I stood close enough to the pair of you so that I could have tickled both your noses with a feather. Since that day I've often pondered on how much anguish could have been saved the world had you both met violent ends then.

Not Right Solution

Still, that wouldn't have been the right solution. It would have been trying to right one evil by doing another. As a matter of fact, putting you out of circulation doesn't necessarily mean taking your lives, though I'm sure that you who hold life so cheaply wouldn't mind facing a firing squad or yet the hangman.

However, it strikes me that the LEAST it can mean is depriving you of your liberty so long as you live. Maybe hanging is too good for you and that, as one of my colleagues remarks, you should be locked up and forced to listen continuously to phonographic records of your bombastic speeches. Anyway, your fate is something the allies must decide, and the quicker they do it—and implement it—the better.

You'll remember, fuehrer, how the allies in the last war shouted themselves hoarse over hanging your predecessor in crime, the kaiser. Then everybody got cold feet. The kaiser lived long and well, until old age led him to his reward.

There's a far different atmosphere this time, though, because we know it's no good beating armies if we don't also eliminate the instigators of the aggression. The axis armies are merely tools which are used by the war-lords, who reproduce their kind, generation after generation.

Must Go to Sourse of Evil

To ensure peace we allies must get at the roots of the evil. In the case of Germany, Herr Hitler, we must eliminate from society in one way or aonther not only your wicked self but all your captains—like Goering, Himmler and Goebbels.

But we shall have to dig much deeper than that, because the real and perpetual mainspring of German aggression is Prussian militarism. We must eliminate the Prussian war lords as well—and they won't be hard to name.

There's a very similar situation in Japan, General Tojo. There militarism rules. You and the other militarists are guilty of multiple aggression and untold atrocities. We're going to get you, Tojo, and your co-murderers.

As for Italy, Signor Soft Underbelly, we want you and a few other cowardly gangsters like your son-in-law Count Ciano. That's not asking much.

A most satisfactory solution of the problem (if any) growing out of your elimination from society would be to hold allied courts martial as fast as you criminals are rounded up. We want no Roman holiday made of your trials—no theatricals, no fuss or feathers, no piddling about. We need dignified and speedy courts martial which will send you all to your just punishment—whatever that may be.

ALLIES FACE TOUGH FIGHT

Fifth Army Up Against Harder Opposition Than Met in Africa.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. 14—Three related difficulties appear to be causing the stiff resistance the American and British are meeting in the Salerno area, where it is generally acknowledged they are having a tougher fight than they ever had in North Africa or Sicily.

The three factors are:

The long distances planes must fly to protect the beachhead.

The difficulty of building up a heavy atacking force because of German ability to concentrate against a small area.

Consequent inability so far to push the Germans back far enough to get the beaches out of Nazi artillery range.

It is known here now that the RAF concentrated 500 Lightnings, Spitfires and Mustangs over the Salerno beaches Friday and that these pilots saw only 120 enemy planes. As late as Sunday the RAF was able to fly 500 sorties over the area, but the nearest airfield now in allied hands is some 150 miles away, as against the 40 or 50 miles the Germans must fly to get to the same area.

It is generally expected that it will take some time to get suitable fields in shape near the bridgehead. Meantime allied fighters can provide air cover only by using long-range planes.

U. S. SUB GRENADIER, TWO CHASERS LOST

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—Loss of the submarine Grenadier and two submarine chasers was reported by the Navy today.

The communique also told of a Japanese raid Sunday night on the United States base on Funafiti Island in the Ellice group in which one enemy plane was shot down and little damage was caused.

The Grenadier, reported overdue and presumed lost, apparently was one of the American submarines which have been inflicting heavy damage on Japanese supply lines throughout the Pacific.

The navy gave no indication of where the submarine made its last patrol.

The subchasers 694 and 959 went down in the Mediterranean area as a result of enemy bombing. The attack, the Navy said, was made on Aug. 23, but no additional details were disclosed.

Yanks and Cards Can't Nail Down Flags Before Week-End.

By The Associated Press

There isn't any mystery about which teams are going to win the major league pennants, but a lot of fans are rushing for pencil and paper to figure out when the St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees will get around to clinching their championships.

It may contribute to the calm and orderly processes of arithmetic, therefore, to point out that there will be no clinchings before next week-end.

The Cardinals can settle the senior circuit controversy with any combination of five victories for themselves or five defeats for their immediate pursuer, the Brooklyn Dodgers, while the magic combination for the Yankees is 10, and consequently further removed.

The Cardinals might be able to make short shift of their pennant problem except that they haven't played since last Saturday and aren't scheduled again until Thursday, when they will embark on a six-game, four-day series with the Chicago Cubs.

The Dodgers have single games today and tomorrow with the Boston Braves, will be idle Thursday, and then play a four-game setto with the New York Giants.

Out of this action should come the Cardinals' clincher, but it can't arrive before Saturday.

Here are the figures for both races:

NATIONAAL

	W	L	G.A.	T.P.
St. Louis	91	44	15½	20
Brooklyn	75	60		19

AMERICAN

	W	L	G.A.	T.P.
New York	85	49	11½	20
Cleveland	73	60		21

Both the Yanks and Indians will be reasonably busy this week. As a result it would be possible for New York to put over the clincher Sunday if it were to win all its games in the meantime and Cleveland were to lose continuously. Since this is another unlikely, and next Monday and Tuesday are open dates in both leagues, the best guess is that the Yankees will not nail down their pennant until the latter part of next week.

Action in the majors yesterday was confined to Boston where the Braves completed their suspended game of July 18 with the Brooklyn Dodgers and obtained a 7-6 ten-inning triumph, but lost the regularly scheduled contest 0-3. The suspended game had been halted because of the Massachusetts Sunday curfew with the score tied at 4-4 in the sixth inning.

Old Timers Play Universal Again

The old-timers' softball team will meet the Universal Cooler squad in a return game at Lincoln park next Monday night. This was announced today by Elmer Smith, old-timers' promoter after the Coolerites last week had challenged the veterans to a return contest.

A practice of the old-timers' team was held at Lincoln park last night. Promoter Smith expects to have approximately the same line-up for Monday night's game as for the first Cooler game last week when the final score read: Old Timers 8, Cooler 7.

Next Monday's tilt will be another benefit affair. However, sponsors of the game have not yet decided to give all the proceeds to the Marion canteen to which all receipts of the first game were donated, or to divide them among the canteen and the Lincoln park light fund.

International League Playoffs Start Today

By The Associated Press

A pair of youngsters who expect to win major league berths next spring take the mound at Syracuse tonight in the opening game of the International league playoffs while a pair of veterans will be the hurlers at Toronto.

Tom De La Cruz, Cuban who won 21 for Syracuse while dropping 11, is the choice of Manager Jewell Ens in the first game of the best seven-of-seven series. He will be opposed by Walt (Monk) Dubiel, young right-hader of the Newark Bears who pitched a no-hit, no-run game earlier this month.

Bob Chipman, lanky southpaw who has seen service with the Brooklyn Dodgers, will pitch for the Montreal Royals in their meeting with Toronto. Luke Hamlin, who also has hurled for the Dodgers, is the pick of Manager Burleigh Grimes.

De La Cruz recently was acquired by the Cincinnati Reds of the National league for delivery next spring.

Invitation System Speeds Team Selection

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

The system of issuing printed invitations to football squad candidates introduced into Harding High school athletics this year, by head coach Vic Dorris, at the present appears to be paying unlooked for dividends. As the 1943 season progresses, the benefits of this new grid policy may manifest themselves even more in the form of upset victories and an unexpected good record for the Prexies.

When Coach Dorris sent out written invitations Aug. 14 to 39 Harding footballers, chosen from approximately 65 boys who were out for spring practice, he was more or less shooting in the dark with an experiment, untried at least locally. He expected, by this new scheme, to streamline and thus strengthen the draft-plagued Harding team by eliminating wasted time in selecting a varsity President outfit. The invitation idea looked good from this standpoint anyway.

However, there was one major drawback to it. It would be very easy for Coach Dorris to overlook some high school boys who possessed natural football ability. These boys probably would not even get a chance to show their stuff to the Harding coaches under the invitation try out system. Under the old weeding-out process, however, any boy in the high school was welcome to try out for the team. On the other hand sometimes as many as three or four valuable practice days were consumed in merely cutting the squad down and selecting those hopefuls who exhibited the most spirit and ability.

Despite the possibility that there might be some Harding boys not on the football roster who would make excellent first-team material, the new system seems to be showing more positive results than the weeding out process, up until this year a traditional fixture in Harding High football.

The progress shown by the inexperienced Harding team in fall practices thus far is undoubtedly to a large degree due to the early start made when the Harding team was intact, ready to play for the opening drill, Sept. 1. With no worries about who to cut from the squad and who to leave on, fating Coaches Dorris and Joe Petrich, they were able to start on the dot Sept. 1, in whipping the Presidents into condition.

Great strides have been made by the possibly underrated President gridders since the opening autumn work out and don't be surprised if the chief executives amaze local and out-of-town fans alike by defeating favored elevens this year. The Mansfield Tyger, Harding opponent this Saturday, are no exception.

• • •

Some of the reports from the Mansfield grid camp bear happy news for Harding football supporters, especially the one that states Jerry Zeller, first-string Tyger fullback, has been drafted. He was described as a hard-charging back and would have been one of the Big Berthas for the Tyger ground attack this season.

Another Mansfield first-teamster, Mike Zivkoff, fleet wingback, also will not be among the starting Tyger eleven against the Presidents Saturday night. The reason? A cracked collarbone, caused in practices last week.

The Mansfield bunch staged a dress rehearsal for the Harding game at Mansfield Saturday in a scrimmage work out with the Galion Orangemen, Marion opponent on Oct. 1. According to Coach Jim Lymper of Galion, his charges held their own against the Tygers. However, the scrimmage was far from being a full-fledged game, in speed and roughness.

Coach of the Mansfield club is Paul Snyder, perennially ranked as one of the state's best. One of the many achievements of the Mansfield gridders under Snyder was the 6 to 6 tie of the vicious Massillon Tigers in 1941.

• • •

Delaware Willis's Black Panthers, Marion St. Mary's football opponent Friday night, have given good reason for new Irish coach, Lane McCrate, to start gnawing at his finger nails. An Ohio Wesleyan university grid squad was able to tally only two touchdowns against the Willis team in a 30-minute practice game last week. The high school outfit itself made a t.d. against the collegians in the first quarter on a 20-yard punt return by back Tom McCleery.

• • •

A wisened football figure is aiding the Galion High school board of football strategy via the mails. He is Bob Zuppke, erstwhile Illinois university grid mentor, and recognized as one of the game's leading experts. Lymper, who was a baseball and football performer for the Illini, receives helpful tips from Zupp on the celebrated "T" formation and other fine points of the game.

• • •

The N.C.O. conference seems to contain about everything in the way of novelties this year. The latest addition is Bob Hlvasa, Mt. Vernon Yellow Jacket back, who claims he is a Russian refugee. Preposterous as it may seem, the supposed Russian rambler is said to average upwards of 70 yards on his punts. In addition to his toe work, Hlvasa is described as a capable runner and good passer.

Milwaukee Brewers Move Near A. A. Flag

By The Associated Press

Postponement or cancellation of all last night's American association baseball games moved the first-place Milwaukee Brewers another big step nearer the championship.

With the season ending Sunday, Milwaukee is three games in front of Indianapolis and four ahead of Columbus. The Brewers have seven to play, Indianapolis has eight, and Columbus seven. If the Brewers take four of those contests, the Tribe would have to win all its remaining tilts to grab the flag.

Milwaukee's remaining games are with sixth place Minneapolis and seventh place Kansas City, while Indianapolis and Columbus clean up their slates against the current fourth and fifth place clubs, Toledo and Louisville.

Toledo and Louisville were the only teams to take the field yesterday, but the game was halted after one inning of play.

Only Nine Teams Left in Baseball Tourney

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 14—Only nine teams remain from the 17 which started play in the 30th annual amateur baseball federation tournament, and six of the nine have one loss in the two-defeats-and-out schedule.

Two of the three undefeated nine, Pontiac, Mich.'s Yellow Coaches, and the Cleveland Bartunek Clothers, are paired in a floodlight affray tonight. The third, defending champion Detroit Auto club, drew a bye in the day's play.

The matinee program matches the Atlanta Ordnance Depot with the Baltimore, Md. Spring Grove team; Pittsburgh Oakmonts with Waterbury, Conn., Washington Hills; and Fort Wayne, Ind. City Lights with the Birmingham, Ala. Acipcos.

The Detroit Auto club whipped the Alabama nine last night 8-6.

Cleveland Plays Two Games with St. Louis

By The Associated Press

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 14—Cleveland's two 15-game pitchers, Jim Bagby and lefty Al Smith, are today's Indian pitching nominees in a twi-night doubleheader with the St. Louis Browns.

The bargain bill was scheduled after a weather-postponement of the series opener yesterday.

Another game Wednesday ends the series, and the Tribe heads homeward to open the final stand before the home fans Friday night, against Detroit.

Ed Klieman, bespectacled sinker ball specialist who won 23 games for the Baltimore Orioles before the International league team's scheduled ended Sunday, will join the Redskins Friday.

Steve Gromek also has been recalled from the Maryland club and will don the Tribal uniform Friday.

Marines Learn About Nags in South Seas

(The following story was written by Sergeant Dick Gordon, of St. Paul, Minn., a Marine corps combat correspondent).

• • •

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC — (Delayed)—Two Marines in the mood for a long shot laid down six shilling place bets on a South Sea nag posted on the board as a "122 to 1" shot. When their horse finished second they rushed in to collect a sweepstakes dividend.

However, a man in the cage paid off only 10 shillings. After their cries of "we wuz robbed" had subsided, a native explained in broken English that the number beside a horse's name down here indicated the total number of people who back him. They had backed the favorite.

With 25 per cent of track receipts deducted for the returned soldiers fund and 75 per cent of the remainder set aside for the winning horse, they finished just two shillings less than even.

The two Marines were Pfc. William P. Quinlan of Canton, O., and Pfc. Chester J. Czarnecki of Chicago.

COACH'S REACTION TO DEFEAT. Another touchdown on the debit side brings a howl of pain from Miss Pauline Rugh, 22, as she watches her Bell Township, Pa., grid team drop its opener at Pittsburgh, 47 to 0. BEE-GEES TO MEET WESLEYAN SATURDAY

By The Associated Press

BOWLING GREEN, O., Sept. 14—Bowling Green State university opens its grid campaign Saturday against Ohio Wesleyan, but the Falcon lineup still is a big question mark to Coach Bob Whittaker.

Practice started a month ago but the first scrimmage was delayed until last week. The squad is composed of Navy V-12 members who have had brief and irregular workouts.

Whittaker's moans, however, aren't being taken too seriously. He has lost only three games in his two years here, and had [illegible] unbeaten teams in 11 years at Sandusky High school.

The tip-off on the possible Bee Gee strength is that the 39 squad members have won 33 college letters in football. Thirty are Marines, eight are sailors, and only one, Ron Waugh of Bowling Green, is a civilian.

Three of the squad—Wayne Bordner of Bowling Green, Art Mergenthal of Xavier, and [illegible] Jacobs of North Central college in Illinois, were named to captain their teams this season.

Nine of the squad were at Bowling Green last year, [illegible] at Creighton university in Nebraska, four at Baldwin Wallace, [illegible] at Kent State, and one each at Hiram, Marietta, Mount Union, Otterbein and Xavier.

The schedule:

Sept. 18—Ohio Wesleyan; Sept. 25—at Xavier; Oct. 2—Central Michigan; Oct. 16—at Wayne (Detroit); Oct. 23—at Baldwin-Wallace (night); Oct. 30—Alma; Nov. 6—at Miami; Nov. 13—at Ohio Wesleyan.

STATE'S BILL SMITH ENLISTS IN NAVY

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14—If the Navy develops a sudden inferiority complex, blame it on Bill Smith who joins Uncle Sam's aquacade today as an inductee.

He's the 19-year-old Hawaiian youth at Ohio State university who strokes through aquatic battles as invincible as a battleship.

America's swimming great, such as Johnny Weismuller and Adolph Kiefer, have termed Smith the world's greatest swimmer. The Honolulu policeman's son holds every major world swimming title between the 100-yard and 1500-meter free style.

A meet at New London, Conn., last summer gave Smith his greatest triumph in this country. He sped through 880 yards in 9.54.6 to win over Keo Nakoma, a fellow Hawaiian and Ohio State university classmate. The year before in St. Louis, Nakoma had bested Smith over the same distance.

Smith first broke into the spotlight when he established the 220-yard world record (2:07.7), the 440-yard (4:38.5) and the 800-meter (9:50.9) at a Honolulu meet in 1941.

Exhibition appearances in this country resulted. Last summer he enrolled at Ohio State university and competed with the Buckeye team under Coach Mike Peppe.

His most recent record is the 200-yard dash won at Detroit last winter in 1:56.3.

He's hoping the Navy can use his swimming ability in one of its athletic programs, but it'll be all right with him if it doesn't.

FINDLAY TO PLAY

By The Associated Press

WITH THE AMERICAN FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Sept. 13—(Delayed) — Four and a half days after our landing, we are not only not advancing today but are being pinned down by counter-attack and artillery barrage from an enemy who is obviously in a desperate situation with hundreds of miles of treacherous communications behind him and little hope of obtaining new supplies.

Our center is being attacked time and again by tanks and infantry which can never hope to see Germany again.

The two battles they fought today with the advantage of holding the high ground and observation points eastward were conducted with the audacity of the men who sliced through Poland, Belgium and France.

We have got the stuff to beat them and we are going to do so. But we have got to hand it to them. They don't lick easily.

If anybody thinks this battle is a plain cinch and its results a foregone conclusion, he should have been with our doughty little group of correspondents this sunny afternoon when we came within an ace of meeting 10 German Mark IV tanks at a spot where we thought we were advancing victoriously.

Our unarmed Jeep was several hundred yards from the enemy armor going lickity split on the highway. Some unknown savior paused to wave us back before he ducked into the bushes.

Half a mile to the rear, we ourselves paused to await the outcome of the battle.

Japs Loyal To Tokyo Removed from Camps

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—President Roosevelt informed the senate today that the war relocation authority (WRA) began early this month to segregate from the 95,000 persons in Japanese relocation centers those who had indicated loyalty to Japan.

In response to a senate resolution, the Chief Executive forwarded a WRA report saying the first train movements have begun to a special camp at the Tule lake relocation center at Newell, Calif.

Electric Rate Vote Delayed

Councilmen Slack and Johnson said they went back to the company last week with a request to have the number of kilowatt hours at the 2½ cent rate reduced to 100 to enable consumers to get to the 1½ cent rate still more quickly, and also asked to have the minimum bill left at its present level of 75 cents. "The company said it would agree to one of the two requests, but not both," Councilman Johnson said. He asked which of the two councilmen preferred. In the discussion that followed, Councilman Johnson said the change in the minimum bill would affect about 25 consumers, whereas the change in the number of kilowatt hours at the 2½ cent rate would bring a reduction to many consumers. Councilmen subsequently voted to ask for the change in the kilowatt hours at the 2½ cent rate.

Residential Rates

As a result, the revised residential rate figures set up by council last night are:

4½ cents per KWH for the first 40 used each month.

4 cents per KWH for the next 30.

3 cents per KWH for the next 30.

2½ cents per KWH for the next 100.

1½ cents per KWH for all additional.

The $1 minimum monthly charge, councilmen emphasized, doesn't mean that electricity users in general will lose any of the benefits of the reduction in rates. It actually will affect only those persons who don't use $1 worth of electricity in a month—and that number in Marion is approximately 25 families, they said.

In the commercial lighting and commercial power rates, reductions from a top of 5 cents to a new top of 4½ cents are set up, leaving the remainder of those schedules unchanged. In the case of commercial lighting customers, the proposed new rate is 4½ cents for the first 500 KWH per month, or a reduction of $2.50 a month for all customers using 500 KWH per month or more. In the case of commercial power users, the proposed rate of 4½ cents for the first 300 KWH would mean a savings of $1.50 a month for all customers using 300 KWH or more monthly.

Meter Plan Change

The new contract provides for consolidation of separate meters now measuring the lighting and power requirements of schools, hospitals and public buildings. Each such building will have a single meter in the future if the contract is approved, resulting in reduced costs, councilmen said.

The new rate contract would become effective as soon as final action is taken by council and the company approves the rates. It would be in force for 10 years and replace a 10-year contract that expired last July. Since the old contract was set up in 1933, the company has cut rates voluntarily three times, from a top of 7 cents down to the present 5-cent level.

Whether the contract should be for a 10-year period was debated at some length in the caucus preceding the open council session. Councilmen Simmons and Barnhard objected to the 10-year provision, declaring they felt 5 years was long enough to obligate the city. Councilman Johnson answered he felt the company would not approve a five-year contract. He and other councilmen then commented that in public utility financing, most favorable interest rates can be obtained only by companies with long-term contracts. Councilmen said they understood 10 years is the maximum life of such a contract permitted in Ohio, and that a majority of utility contracts in this state are written for 10-year periods. Councilmen Slack and Rea at one time indicated they would favor a seven-year contract, if a majority did not favor 10 years, but in the final vote at the open meeting on the tabling of the proposal until next Monday night, all voted yes except Councilman Simmons who said he still didn't like the 10-year provision of the proposal.

Other Action

Other council action follows:

Authorized Safety-Service Director Caldwell to enter into contracts with the county and other political subdivisions to furnish service at the City hospital for indigent persons at a minimum rate of $4 a day, an increase over the previous $2.50 rate for such charity cases.

Set up a salary of $225 a month for the combined positions of laboratory and X-ray technician at the City hospital, due to inability to obtain separate persons to handle the two jobs.

Received a petition for cindering an alley between Merkel avenue and Sheridan road from Barks avenue to the end of the alley. It was explained several garages face the alley, now unimproved.

Referred to Mayor Snare an inquiry from the city park board regarding the responsibility for maintenance and care of Lincoln park ball field fence and stadium.

Referred to the safety-service director a complaint about the condition of a north-south alley connecting York and Center streets between Fies avenue and Latourette street.

Heard a report from the council sewer committee that it felt the city was not at fault in connection with a Cherry street sewer complaint received at an earlier meeting.

Referred to the safety-service director complaints that: (1) mud is running out of a catch basin at Tully and Prospect streets, (2) mud is flowing into a catch basin on Prospect street from construction work at the Rosemary addition and is plugging the catch basin. When Councilman Simmons said some of the earth from grading operations in that addition was collecting in the streets, Councilman Slack asked that the police be instructed to investigate and order the street cleared.

Complaints about weeds along Leader street and around the Durfee quarry were turned in by councilmen, with requests for action from the health board.

Councilmen Rea and Robinson were reelected as council representatives on the fire pension board and Councilmen Johnson and Simmons were reelected to the police pension board.

British Land Again On Spitsbergen Island

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Sept. 14 — The British have landed new forces on the Norwegian island of Spitsbergen, above the Arctic circle following the German hit and run raid on Sept. 8, according to a DNB report broadcast by the Berlin radio and recorded by The Associated Press.

The German report, which indicated that the British have control of the island, said that five British destroyers reached Barentsburg at dawn yesterday and brought guns ashore.

The Germans said their naval attack wrecked harbor installations and the weather station but did not mention the fate of the handful of Norwegians who garrisoned the barren outpost.

THIRD "FAMILY CLINIC" SESSION TONIGHT AT 8

Causes of Domestic Troubles Analyzed by Lecturer.

"The differences between husband and wife can be stimulating instead of divisive to a marriage relationship," asserted Mrs. Clarence Hamilton last night in the third session of the "Clinic on Family Problems" at the Central Christian church. Her topic was, "Making the Most of Our Marriage." She showed how often couples make too much of their differences and neglect to develop their common interests. In an introductory statement the statistics of divorce cases in Cuyahoga county for 1943 were quoted: "for every four couples that come to the Cuyahoga county courthouse for marriage licenses, three couples come to get divorced."

The third session will begin at 8 tonight. Mrs. Hamilton's topic will be "Our Little Children Face Life." Miss Luella Scholl, principal of the Olney Avenue school, will be the discussion leader.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2 Mrs. Hamilton will address a session for women only on the topic "Resources for Abundant Living." Mrs. George Pickering will preside, and Mrs. Harold Mouser, president of the women's auxiliary of the Marion Academy of Medicine, will be chairman for the discussion period.

ALEUTIAN RECAPTURE PAYS OFF IN KURILE RAID

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 — A new attack of U. S. army bombers on Japan's Kurile islands seemed today to be the first payoff from the American conquest of the Aleutians.

The navy's announcement of the army's feat—another illustration of unified operations—never mentioned the home base of the bombers which smacked the big Japanese port of Paramushiro for the fourth time in this war.

It would be astonishing, however, if those bombers, which included heavies as well as mediums, had not taken off from either Attu or Kiska in the Aleutian chain, newly retrieved from Japanese invaders.

Paramushiro is the key to Tokyo from the north—a bomber flight from the Bering sea. It is on a direct line within bomber range of the Attu-Kiska fringe of the Aleutians. From any other known United Nations base, it is virtually secure. Always excepting, of course, carrier-based planes.

The navy perhaps gave a hint that its long hoped-for bombing of Japan's vitals from Aleutian bases, off Alaska, now was under way.

The announcement last night said Liberator (Consolidated B-24) and Mitchell (North American B-25) bombers battered enemy shipping and ground installations at Paramushiro and after a 50-minute running battle shot down 10 enemy fighters and perhaps got three more.

12 Men Interviewed By Navy Seabee Recruiter

Twelve men were interviewed for the Seabees yesterday by Lt. M. R. Norton of the Toledo naval recruiting station during his weekly Monday visit to the Marion recruiting substation. Sixteen men were examined by the naval physical examiners, Lt. C. M. Creswell and Pharmacist's Mate Second Class M. P. Brinda, who accompanied Lt. Norton. The results were very satisfactory, Chief John J. Dugan, in charge of the Marion station, reported today.

Men from the four counties, Wyandot, Hardin, Crawford and Marion, were interviewed and examined.

Lt. Norton will be at the Marion station at 98 South Main street next Monday from 12:30 to 3:30 p. m. for the same purpose of interviewing prospective applicants. The date on which the medical officers will return will be announced later.

Colonel's Wife Won't Testify at Trial

SELFRIDGE FIELD, Mich., Sept. 14 — The defense in the court martial trial of Col. William T. Colman, former commandant of this air base, rested today without calling Mrs. Colman as had been planned.

The decision not to place Mrs. Colman on the stand followed a ruling by Col. Hamner Huston, president of the court that if she testified it would have to be at a public session.

Col. Colman is charged with 29 counts with seven violations of the articles of war, including the shooting and wounding of a Negro soldier-chauffeur, misappropriation of government property, fraudulently arranging enlistments and transfers to the air base here and with accepting a gift from a firm doing work for the government.

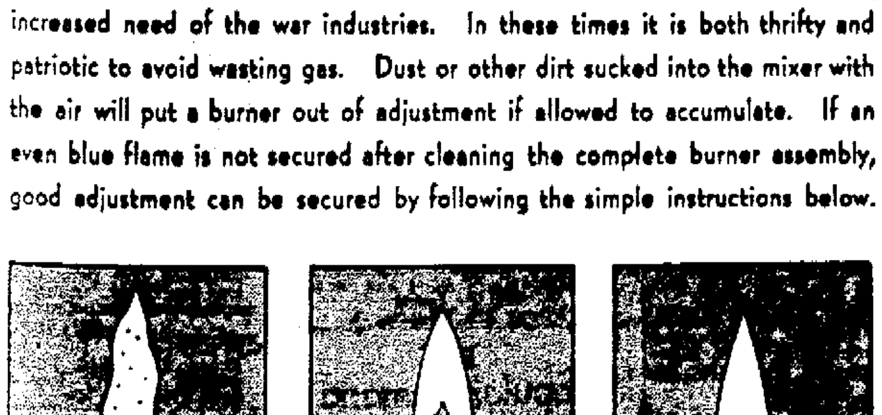
Thief Tries To Be at Least Half Fair

It was a considerate thief who took a standard first aid kit from the automobile of Carl Campbell of the Retail Credit Bureau Saturday or Sunday. Mr. Campbell reported to police yesterday. He was thoughtful enough to remove important papers from the kit and leave them in the car.

GALION—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Campbell of Mt. Gilead, are the parents of a daughter, born Sunday at Galion City hospital.

Save, Serve and Conserve - by the simple process of proper burner adjustment

Correct adjustment of the burners on your gas appliances produces a clean flame with maximum heat on a minimum flow of gas. This efficiency in the use of the fuel not only saves you money, but also saves gas for the increased need of the war industries. In these times it is both thrifty and patriotic to avoid wasting gas. Dust or other dirt sucked into the mixer with the air will put a burner out of adjustment if allowed to accumulate. If an even blue flame is not secured after cleaning the complete burner assembly, good adjustment can be secured by following the simple instructions below.



NOT ENOUGH AIR
A lazy flame or one showing tinges of yellow denotes too much gas. Open the shutter on the mixer slightly.

TOO MUCH AIR
A blue flame dancing above and off the burners denotes too much air. Close the shutter on the mixer slightly.

CORRECT FLAME
A clear blue flame seated on the burner, of definite shape and showing a lighter inner cone denotes proper mixture of gas and air.

With a little practice, most customers will find that they can make these simple adjustments themselves. A screwdriver is the only tool needed to loosen and tighten the set screw on the mixer. If difficulty is encountered, call your plumber or The Gas Company.

Squirrel Season Opens Tomorrow

For hunters in Marion county and a majority of the counties south of Marion county the squirrel season opens tomorrow and will continue for 15 days through Sept. 30. For Wyandot, Crawford and other counties north of Marion county the season will open on Sept. 22 and continue through Sept. 30.

A check of Marion business places which handle state hunting licenses showed that sale of licenses is slightly below normal. However, at present ammunition is not available in most hardware stores in the area. Hunters who will be in action during the squirrel season will be using an ammunition supply laid away before manufacture of ammunition for civilian purposes was halted.

WAR IN ITALY AFFECTS LIST

Many Buyers Step Aside To Await Outcome of Fighting.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—Selective strength persisted in today's stock market although many buyers stood aside or lightened commitments pending outcome of important battles in Italy.

Offerings as well as bids never were urgent and the ticker tape did little more than crawl from the start. There were scattered gains of a point or so near the fourth hour but losers were in the majority.

Better performing stocks included American Locomotive preferred (new), which touched a 1943 top; Consolidated Edison, Bethlehem, Goodrich, J. I. Case, Montgomery Ward, American Can and U. S. Gypsum. Slipping inclinations were exhibited by General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (N.J.), Kennecott, U. S. Rubber, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Westinghouse and American Telephone.

CASH GRAIN DEMAND UNDERTONE FIRM

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept. 14—Good cash demand led to a firm undertone in grain futures today, but profit-taking and other scattered selling cut down the best advances. There was some reluctance to trade because of opening of congress today and because war news from Italy was not considered favorable by traders.

Nearby deliveries were strongest, and oats featured the market as September and December deliveries again advanced to new 23 year highs at times at 76⅞ and 73⅜, respectively. In the cash market No. 2 white oats sold at 81¾ cents, also the highest price in 23 years and about 5 cents over the September delivery.

EARTHQUAKE REPORTED IN DIRECTION OF JAPAN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 14—A series of earthquake termors, in the general direction of Japan, was reported today by Father Joseph J. Lynch, seismologist of Fordham university, who said they had continued intermittently since midnight.

The first severe shock was timed at 12:06.34 a. m. (EWT) and the second at 12:17.32 a. m., both about 7700 miles from New York in a northwesterly direction. Then there were many minor shocks until 3:36.58 a. m., when there was a "quite severe" one. This occurred about 7300 miles away.

In a Tokyo broadcast last Saturday, Domei news agency said 1,400 persons had been killed or seriously injured at Tottori by Japan most severe earthquake in 10 years.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

RONALD obediently choked back a question at my father's dictum, while Dicky and Noel settled into more comfortable positions in their chairs. I noticed that Dicky still held in his hands the piece of flimsy paper with the drawing of a key upon it, which Crump, the waiter, said he had picked up where the disguised woman had been standing when he helped her on with her coat.

"Before we begin, father," I said deferentially, "I am wondering if that drawing of a key would mean anything to Mary."

Hands Paper to Mary

Imperturbably my father held out his hand for the paper. Dicky gave it to him, and my father held it out to Mary.

"There's but one way to find that out," he said.

Mary had laid her original translation and her copies, with the little black code book, on the table when my father had put us into our chairs, and she took but one quick glance at the drawing before snatching the code book up and turning to a page almost at the back of the book.

"Here it is!" she exclaimed, handing the code book first to me.

I looked at it and passed it to my father, who sent it on to Dicky, Noel and Ronald. The code book page held a similar drawing of a lock and a key, and in each end of the key was the letter "M," so cunningly drawn in that it took sharp scrutiny to find them.

"I remember so well when she did that," Mary said. "She had trouble managing it alone, but she wouldn't let me help her. She said that if she were really on a pirate ship, she wouldn't have anybody to help her make a copy of a lock and a key, and in each infinite pains, first fitting paper over the lock till she could pencil the outline of the edges, then cutting another paper to fit, and marking the lines of the lock upon it. The key was simpler, of course, and the M, in each end stands for our common initial."

An Important Clew

"Then you have no doubt that this drawing is an accurate one of some lock in her prison, and the key to it."

My father's voice was sharp, urgent, as he put the question, and Mary's reply to it was prompt.

"I am sure of it," she said, and my father held out his hand to Ronald for the drawing, then scrutinized it carefully.

"This is not an outside lock," he said positively at last, "and of course she never would have the opportunity to make a drawing of one, anyway. So this must be the lock of her own room, and the fact that she was able to outline it, proves that she is not under as rigid espionage as she formerly was."

"That is indicated by one of the code messages she sent," Mary said quietly.

"Then," he said decisively, "let us hear the messages, all of them, as soon as possible."

An Appealing Glance

Mary sent an appealing glance to me, but I made a decisive negative sign, and she thereupon recited the code messages she had traced from the words "silver cross," "gold bracelet," "opal ring" and "amber necklace my grandmother gave me" for which Marion in her letter had asked Mary to care.

I think it was the hardest task Ronald ever had to sit still and say nothing while those desperately appealing messages from his lost sweetheart were being recited. But the memory of my father's admonition, and his fear that impetuosity on his part might bar him from participating in Marion's rescue, kept him as silent as the rest of us while Mary's golden voice heightened the drama of the messages she was reading to us.

Then my father put his finger tips together and spoke with slow deliberation.

"We have these points to go on. I think we are justified in assuming them from what we have heard from the man, Crump, and from this code revelation.

Five Points

"First, Marion is in some apartment or house somewhere near that restaurant.

"Second, deducing this from the key, because she has been able to make them believe she is willing to work with them, they have relaxed their espionage on her a little, not very much.

"Third: Her captors are getting uneasy and fear our getting closer to them. She is afraid they will kill her if the chase closes in.

"Fourth: She wishes us to be somewhere near her, to proceed cautiously, and to watch for her signals. That means she wishes someone to be in or near that restaurant almost constantly.

"Fifth: She acknowledges her mistake in judgment. That relieves my greatest fear, that she would hinder our attempts to rescue her through her mistaken altruism in shielding someone."

Ronald could restrain himself no longer. Lurching forward in his seat, he spoke hoarsely.

"Shielding someone?" he repeated. "Do you mean she's shielding Carolyn?"

The Stars Say—

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, Sept. 15

THERE MAY be a sudden reversal of affairs on this day, with the energies and faculties keyed to very decisive accomplishment, spurred by brilliant ideas and highly constructive enterprise, which may assure the substantial support of those in influential positions, both in finance and prestige. It should be a time for inaugurating new projects of major importance with might and main. It may be a time to strike while the iron is hot, with aggressive attack even though objectives are novel, revolutionary or spectacular. It is likely results will be decisive and make place for ingenuity in the public eye. Be circumspect, however, in affiliations, and wary with writings.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for the sudden precipitation of important events, with surprising openings for putting over, with vim and enthusiasm, projects of major significance, especially in connection with community, group or public interest. Those in high places may be ready with capital and friendly aid to promote new, ingenious, or out-of-the-ordinary inventions, business projects or other timely programs or propositions. Seek cooperation with confidence and aggressive initiative, but be cautious in signing all writings. It would be desirable to be discreet in all purely private or social affiliations.

A child born on this day may be inventive, original, ingenious and have some exceptional ideas or talents to attract public recognition and the solid support of those in high places.

RETURN OF BOOTLEGGING GANGSTERS ENVISIONED

War-Time Liquor Shortage Blamed for Situation.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 14 — President M. L. Curtis of the National Alcoholic Beverage Control association today envisioned an America infested by prohibition era gangsters unless enforcement authorities act to combat war-time liquor shortage evils.

Curtis, in a speech prepared for the association's sixth annual meeting, said "the steadily dwindling reserve stock of distilled spirits, especially whiskies, is bringing many difficult problems in its wake."

Among major problems, he listed "rationing, price control, reduced state and national revenues, and most threatening of all, the return of the old time bootlegger with his poison hootch and the accompanying wave of racketeering, gangsterism and crime."

"The limited supply of legitimate liquor, enormously increased war taxes and the alcohol necessities for the war effort," he said, "combine to establish conditions comparable to the prohibitions era which may create a gangsters' paradise."

Curtis said the association, with a membership of 14 of the nation's 17 monopoly liquor states, would seek increased aid from the treasury department's alcohol tax unit to meet enforcement problems stemming from the liquor scarcity.

FARM LABOR CASE FACES NLRB TEST

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14—With potent farmer groups reported ready to cry a loud "no", the war labor board (WLB) will take up the question this week of whether it has jurisdiction over agricultural labor disputes.

This is a field specifically closed to the national labor relations board (NLRB) by congress.

In a test case to be heard Wednesday, the majority of a panel recommended that the WLB perform a function ordinarily within the province of the NLRB, that is, determine whether the union has a majority of the employes and, if so, order the employer to bargain and sign a contract. The industry member of the panel filed a minority report.

The case involves the California Packing corporation's midwest division at Rochelle and Dekalb, Ill., and the CIO United Cannery, Agricultural Packing and Allied Workers. The NLRB certified the union as the bargaining representative of the cannery workers, but did not take jurisdiction of the agricultural laborers because the national labor relations (Wagner) act specifically excludes agricultural labor from the operation of the act.

The union asks the WLB to assume this jurisdiction. It points out that the executive order creating the board provides "procedures for adjusting and settling labor disputes which might interrupt work which contributes to the effective prosecution of the war."

Asserting the case under review involved scale operations "which follow a modern industrial pattern," the majority said extension of Wagner act principles for the war's duration to industrialized agriculture "would affect only one farm out of one hundred."

The panel majority is Dr. Arthur Raper, of the bureau of agricultural economics, representing the public, and John B. Easton, president of the West Virginia industrial union council, representing labor.

Science Selects Skyfighters

IN THE article yesterday we reviewed some of the developments in the field of aviation medicine, particularly selecting pilots on their mental qualifications.

There are, of course, many other developments of aviation medicine which have literally made modern military aviation possible.

One of these, of course, is the oxygen supply. The modern military pilot is exposed to altitudes of 30,000 and 40,000 feet, to temperatures of 60 degrees below zero and to speeds of 500 miles an hour. He could not endure these without artificial methods of help.

The use of oxygen is a fairly simple and obvious method of help, but immense improvements in apparatus and in knowledge of application have been made by research workers. At sea level the total atmospheric pressure is 760 mg. of mercury, the oxygen is approximately 21 per cent, and oxygen pressure of the atmosphere, about 159 mm.

At 10,000 feet the oxygen pressure in the lungs has dropped to 65 mm, and at 20,000 feet it has dropped to 40 mm. Oxygen pressure is what keeps us alive. If it falls below a certain level we become first inefficient, then unconscious, and then we die. The aviator is taught to begin to use oxygen at 10,000 feet. About 15,000 feet it is absolutely necessary for efficiency. At 35,000 feet he is inefficient even when breathing 100 per cent oxygen, and above 47,000 feet he will die with 100 per cent oxygen unless he has a pressure cabin or suit.

A related problem is the effect of low barometric pressure per se. At 35,000 feet nitrogen is given off in the blood and gets into the muscles, causing the "bends." It is exactly the same as caison disease in deep-sea divers: the diver coming from high pressure under sea, if brought up rapidly to the air at sea level, gets the bends for the same reason that the aviator does going from sea level to the low pressure of three miles in the air.

Livestock Truckers To Meet at Green Camp

Friday an open meeting will be held at the town hall in Green Camp for a general discussion of farm transportation problems with particular emphasis on the movement of livestock to market and processing centers. The meeting, called at the suggestion of G. C. Bosart, Marion county livestock truckman, will include talks by A. Z. Baker, president of the Cleveland Union Stock Yards and a member of the newly appointed State Livestock Transportation Advisory committee, A. F. Dankert, district ODT manager from Columbus, F. W. Gillespie, regional ODT farm vehicle expert and other persons interested in the transportation and marketing of livestock. In addition a program of entertainment is planned including group singing lead by Ben Jenkins from Cleveland and "Hank" Hiser who will speak on current markets. The meeting will get under way at 8:30. Refreshments will be served.
